The Editor's column

By S. R. PADDOCK

This is the comment we received Monday from an ardent Palatine citizen, "Palatine has finally emerged from its cocoon. Never more will neighboring communities call Palatine "the end of the line," "Sleepy Hollow," etc. Palatine proved conclusively last week that its people can do a job, the like of which our neighbors have good reason to take notice."

Our guess was wrong as to the demand for extra copies of last week's Palatine Enterprise. One minute we are pleased that the 500 extra copies have been exhausted. The next minute we revert to our Scotch ancestry when we realize that the print paper used in each copy cost one cent more than we will receive from the newsdealers who sold them. We are still glad we did it.

With the exception of the parade, the most outstanding feature of Palatine's celebration of its centennial was the antique displays. It is to be regretted that too many of them will probably go back into attics, storage rooms and be subject to the ravages of time.

A great many of the heirlooms may be considered priceless by the families concerned. They would be of greater value if they could become a part of a Palatine historical collection instead of being divided among family descendants.

Many persons were heard to say at the Palatine centennial, "Why have we not a historical society officially established which could accept the custody of many of the historical items?"

We think that the time for the establishment of such a society in Palatine and Arlington Heights is right now. Arlington Heights has a room available for such a purpose in its public library but no historical society.

We herewith repeat our offer made several months ago to accept and place on file names of persons who would be interested in attending an organization meeting for either of the local communities.

The owners of some of the most prized exhibits have expressed their willingness to turn their property over to a historical association if they could be assured permanent protection.

Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect have their own library buildings. Palatine will no doubt provide such a building when sentiment is receptive. We think the centennial has placed Palatine in the mood for library action.

We have received from the Illinois State Historical Society pamphlets which recommend the procedure to be followed in organizing a local historical society. We will be pleased to loan them to any interested persons.

An official notice appears in this week's edition notifying taxpayers that they have only 10 days to file before the Cook County Board of Appeals objection to the 1955 assessments. The amount of those assessments will not be published until sometime next year. That is what we call fast work.

The Palatine Centennial is past history but we can not resist this one:

The float of Arlington Heights Fender and Body Shop, carried this sign upon a wrecked car, "If you drink don't drive; speed and alcohol did this: 2 dead, 9 injured."

A short time later came a prospector's wagon bearing the label of Palatine safety council in which was a figure with a jug on his lap."

Of course there could only have been water in that jug, but spectators did not know that.

The directors of School District 24, known as the Wilson school, situated on Palatine road, west of Arlington Heights road are greatly in need of teachers for 1st, 2nd and 4th grade. The pay scale is nearly as high as Arlington Heights schools.

This information appears in this column on the possibility than qualified teachers not otherwise engaged, will be influenced to make application for a position.

The Palatine Centennial has kept us so busy that we have missed many sessions of the Breakfast Club which explains why Arlington has not had its usual lineage the past three weeks in this column.

Wednesday morning we returned to our usual seat but we could not get much editorial inspiration out of discussions on dog hospitals, or village financial affairs.

We did promise, however, to ask the Arlington Heights park board how long they are going to wait before erecting a second swim pool on its southside property.

The Breakfasters are hoping that Arlington Heights Park Board has not become infected with the customary Arlington Heights "why hurry" fever. We suggest that they get their bond issue out of the way. There is no reason to wait until "double sessions" will be forced upon next summer's swimmers.

A Skokie editor has been ordered to pay $40,000 for libeling 2 lawyers. This country is going to pot when an editor can't write what he thinks about members of the legal fraternity. We have always thought that it was always an open season on them and politicians.

Indian raiders capture Harry Schoppe, veteran merchant, and lead him to the courthouse and he did not seem to mind it at all. At the right is Big Chief Past holding by the hand his son, Little Chief Robert. The members of the Explorer group under the direction of Mr. Past, manufactured the greater part of the costumes. This group participated in the Indian raid early Thursday evening when various businesmen and women were captured and taken to the stock. Leading Mr. Schoppe is Wayne Woodrich; at his left is Berry Barnes; Donald Garms is at the right of the picture. It was part of Palatine Centennial celebration. —Staff Photo

No Village Funds To Spray 8,000 Trees

Charles Walters New Head Of Cancer Society

Highlight of an evening get-together June 24 in Mt. Prospect for members of the Northwest Suburban chapter of the American Cancer society was the announcement and introduction of their new chairman, Charles J. Walters, 307 N. Bothwell, Palatine.

Walters, an attorney with offices at 35 W. Slade in Palatine, is chairman of the board of the Northwest Community hospital center and has been active in the annual boy scout drives. He was graduated from the University of Illinois and served as special agent for the FBI from 1942-1947.

OTHERS ON the chapter's executive committee are: Keith G. Wurtz, M.D., 4 W. Northwest highway, Arlington Heights, vice chairman; Mrs. Ralph Howard, 16 S. Wa Pella, Mt. Prospect, secretary and Mrs. C. S. Day, 527 Thacker, Des Plaines, service chairman; Mrs. Stephen Kline, 112 S. Wa-Pella Mt. Prospect, publicity chair man.

As chairman of the chapter's executive committee, Walters will head up the year-round activities of the ACS, whose information center office in Mt. Prospect offers its services to more than 90,000 residents in the 13 northwest suburban communities. Included in the area are: Arlington Heights, Barrington, Bartlett, Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect, Niles, Norridge, Ontarioville, Orchard Place, Palatine, Prospect Heights, Prospect Meadows, and Wheeling.

THE INFORMATION center provides a place where persons concerned with or suffering from cancer can seek counsel or material aid from a trained staff worker. Through its loan closet, the center supplies various articles of sickroom equipment and cancer dressings for the patient being cared for at home. The center also serves as headquarters for the lifesaving educational program of the society in the community, by housing pamphlets, literature, and film, available on request.

Following presentation of Walters, the more than 50 ACS volunteers held a short business meeting followed by the showing of the latest cancer society color film.

The group then adjourned to an open-house at the new information center offices to fete the new chairman and celebrate the over-the-goal success of the 1955 Cancer crusade in the chapter. A brief ribbon-cutting ceremony at the door launched the activities of the offices from their new home at 121 S. Emerson, Mt. Prospect.

Walters pointed out that the American Cancer society has "a tremendous job to carry on in the northwest area. Operating centers such as the one in Mt. Prospect is not an easy task," he pointed out. "It requires the time and energies of countless volunteers. We appeal to our suburban residents to help us out by becoming active volunteers in the northwest chapter." B5

Friday Last Day For Free X-Rays

Friday is the last day for free X-rays at the mobile unit parked by the Ben Franklin Store, 9 W. Campbell ave., Arlington Heights.

The survey to find unsuspected cases of tuberculosis in the suburb started Wednesday, sponsored by the Health center and Nurses' club.

EVERYONE 15 years old and over is eligible to stop by the unit for a free X-ray from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Thursday and 1:30 to 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Mrs. C. F. Bloecker of 821 N. Vail is chairman of the 3-day survey and volunteers will register applicants for X-rays at the unit.

The X-ray for Health survey is conducted by the Tuberculosis Institute (the Christmas Seal organization) and the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium District.

"THE MINUTE it takes to have an X-ray is an important one," said Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, executive director of the SCCTSD. "TB can be cured if it is detected soon enough. A contagious disease, tuberculosis has no apparent symptoms at first and an annual chest X-ray is the best way to find it early."

No undressing is necessary for an X-ray, which is taken by a trained technicial. Within 2 weeks the findings are mailed to the home. A larger X-ray, also free, will be given to those who show suspicious signs of TB and if other chest conditions are suspected the applicant is advised to contact his private physician immediately.

Neighbors Asked To Join Forces To 'Save The Elms'

As reports of the dreaded Dutch Elm disease creep closer and closer to Arlington Heights, residents are becoming more and more alarmed and many are calling on village officials to take immediate action in order to keep the tree killing disease out of the village.

F. Robert Buechner, village manager, wrote to Dr. J. C. Carter, plant pathologist, University of Illinois, to find out whether or not the university could send out a field man to determine the need here, if any, for developing an elm tree spraying or preventative program, either by private or municipal service. The university apparantly does not have this type of service but did recommend the village get advice from a forester, the nearest one in this area being in Elmhurst.

SAMPLES OF diseased trees have been sent to the university for laboratory analysis, and reports show no evidence of the Dutch Elm tree disease to date, but the village is constantly on the alert for it. However, the samples did reveal some "inch" worm infestation, which is not deadly to trees.

The most common infestation this year, as widely evidenced from the sticky "honeydew" substance on windshields of cars that have been parked under elm trees, is the "Europeon Fruit Lecanium." Manager Buechner says this is not to be confused with the Dutch elm disease. Once this blight starts it is likely to re-occur season after season, according to authorities, and in time it is deadly. Such diseased trees should be sprayed in the spring or fall to prevent this from eventually killing the trees.

There are several tree spraying services available in the area, which are equipped for spraying with hydraulic pressure units, the cost varying from $1.50 to $3.50 a tree, depending upon the quantity of trees to be sprayed in any one block.

It is estimated there are 8,000 elm trees in Arlington Heights, and the cost of spraying all these elms would be prohibitive to the village beside the fact no money has been appropriated for this purpose this year.

BUECHNER says the village has received numerous inquiries from many sections of the village and in all cases the interested parties seemed willing to individually pay to have the trees sprayed. Sherwood has already taken action and residents have paid to have the elms sprayed in that area.

Other residents interested in protecting the parkway elms are urged to join forces with neighbors and employ a spraying service to take care of trees in the block. This would enable them to get a cheaper rate and the cost to each home owner would be kept at a minimum. Further details can be had by contacting the village manager.

The village board has appropriated $4,000 this year for cutting hazardous trees and limbs on parkway trees. However, it should be pointed out this appropriation is not nearly enough to take care of all the trees that need attention, but it at least will be a start. It is hoped the village can work out a complete program for tree care within the next year or two.

500,000th Gas Meter Installed In Rolling Meadows

Installation of a gilded meter Tuesday in the new all-gas home of Northern Illinois Gas Company's 500,000th customer in Rolling Meadows (Illinois), northwest of Chicago, highlighted the utility's special ceremonies marking the event.

Among those present were George R. Perrine, chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission, and Marvin Chandler, president of Northern Illinois Gas, who observed the installation of the 500,000th meter in the new residence of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Karst at 3508 Sigwalt st., who now live in Chicago. They will move to their new all-gas home in the near future.

Stamping it as one of the fastest growing gas utilities in the country, the installation of meter number 500,000 climaxes a continuing Northern Illinois Gas Company growth attested by approximately 120,000 new customers added to the system during the past five years.

Commenting on the occasion, Chandler said that it was fitting that the 500,000th installation should occur in Rolling Meadows since this community is the newest and one of the fastest growing in the company's 17-county service area in northern Illinois. It is doubly significant, he observed, that the 500,000th customer was added to the system while plans are being made to celebrate a century of gas service in northern Illinois next month in Ottawa (Illinois).

Since 1949, Chandler said, the annual per cent increase in gas customers in northern Illinois has been more than that of the United States, and last year it was nearly twice as rapid.

In addition to the increase in the number of customers which is continuing at the rate of approximately 2,500 per month, Chandler said, the average annual therm use per residential customer has risen from 299 in 1940 to 874 for the 12 months ending in March, 1955.

Northern Illinois Gas Company, which took over the operations of the Public Service Company (division of Commonwealth Edison Company, Chicago) gas properties in February, 1954, ranks tenth in total customers among the nation's in revenues.

The company, which supplies natural gas to 236 communities in northern Illinois outside Chicago, recently acquired the adjacent Union Gas & Electric Company of Bloomington and Normal (Illinois) which it is operating at present as a subsidiary. (B5

Mahalia Jackson, Gospel Singer, At Methodist Camp Grounds Sunday

Mahalia Jackson, possessing probably the most discussed Gospel singing voice in America today, is to appear in person at Methodist Camp Ground, Des Plaines, Sunday, at 7:30 p.m. She will headline the 14th annual Nite of Stars benefit concert for underprivileged children at that institution.

A CBS-TV star, Mahalia is busy from coast to coast constantly. She will fly from a week in Los Angeles and Hollywood to Miami, Fla., appearing there July 16, then to Chicago to fill the Camp Ground engagement and an hour or so later that night, to appear on her regular television program, CBS Channel 2 at 10:15.

Stardom and success have come to Mahalia following 20 years of singing among the churches of her people. She has appeared 5 times at Carnegie Hall in New York, and on the Godfrey and Ed Sullivan shows. She has also appeared on European concert platforms. A devoted and devout person, she refuses calls to all but the singing of her Gospel songs.

Others on the program will include Peggy Hopp, Laurie Gordon, Florence Stilke, Jane Fothergill, Roger and Gerald Simonson, of Des Plaines; and Leonard Gordon of Chicago.

Centennial Books Now On Sale

Persons who ordered copies of the Palatine Centennial book must pick up their editions at the Chamber of Commerce office, Palatine, or at Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights.

Schools Make Pleas For Teachers And Housing

Three schools called the office of Paddock Publications this week, two to make pleas for teachers, and the other to make a plea for housing for a teacher and a business manager.

Wilson school, Palatine rd., is in dire need of 3 teachers to serve the first, second and fourth grades this coming year. Any former teachers or new teachers qualified to teach in an elementary school are asked to contact the president of the school board, William Casteel, Clearbrook 3-5305.

Supt. Ralph Clabaugh of Arlington Heights public elementary schools is seeking housing for a new music teacher, who has a wife and 4 children, and for the school's new business manager, who has a wife and 3 children. The latter needs quarters immediately and the music teacher will need a home by August.

Anyone knowing of such housing is urged to call Supt. Clabaugh at Clearbrook 3-6100.

Wheeling school also needs 3 new teachers, one each for first, second and third grades. Anyone interested should contact Jack Norris, principal, Wheeling 87. (AC

It will be open Friday to 8 p.m.

Junior Womans Box Social To Aid Hospital

A box lunch will add dimes and dollars to the proposed Northwest Community Hospital center fund July 31 when the auctioneer "bids it up" at the Arlington Heights Junior Womans club box social. (It was erroneously stated last week that the Womans club was sponsoring the event, it should have read Junior Womans club.)

Everyone interested in helping obtain a hospital so badly needed in this thickly populated area will want to join the fun at 5 p.m. at the K. D. Hartmans' yard on Seegers rd., just south of Rt. 58, and east of State rd.

A SPECIAL invitation is being extended to all residents of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine, Barrington and Schaumburg townships, who will be served by the proposed hospital. Every dollar collected from the box lunches auctioned off at the social, will bring the hospital a dollar closer to becoming a reality. Its erection not only may mean the difference between life and death, but it will add to the comfort and convenience of patients and doctors alike, who will be using its facilities.

More details will be published next week. In the meantime the Junior Women urge residents to circle July 31 on their calendars and start thinking up a menu for a tempting box lunch to bring to the social.

Arlington Heights Nurses club reports its "doll of the year" is attracting a great deal of attention. It is slated to raise a $1,000 for the proposed Northwest Community Hospital Center. This Friday and Saturday will see the doll on display in the Barrington business district.

Still another group staging a benefit for the hospital is a special committee of the Arlington Greens association. They will hold a bake sale July 23, from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., at J. Svoboda Sons store, 12 S. Dunton. The "cooks" of Arlington Greens will donate cakes, pies, cookies and rolls for the event, and proceeds will go into the proposed hospital fund.

Another $2.60 was turned into the hospital fund this week by a group of youngsters who manned a "lemonade" stand on S. Chestnut ave., to aid the hospital. Kiddies participating were Diane Niemeyer, Carol Ann Gross, Ruth Ann Stine, Tim and Kathy Bradley.

Chief Issues Warning To 'Hot Rodders' And Their Parents

Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog, Arlington Heights, issues the following warning to "hot rodders" and their parents:

"It is unlawful to operate a motor vehicle without stock mufflers. "Smitty" mufflers, or any other type contraptions put on to make noise will not be tolerated in Arlington Heights.

"Cars must observe speed laws, be properly licensed, and headlights and tail lights must be in operating order.

"Anyone picked up for these violations will be fined according to the law."

Chief Skoog further stated parents should check to see whether or not their son or daughter is driving a safe car and whether or not the car meets with requirements regarding mufflers (quiet type), lights, brakes and good tires. They should also warn their children to obey all traffic laws.

Seek Zoning Variations for Medical Center, Parking Lot

Two petitions for variations in zoning were submitted to Arlington Heights village board at its adjourned meeting Tuesday night.

One petition asked for a variation to permit the erection of a medical center on the west side of N. State rd., approximately 140 feet south of the intersection of Thomas st. and State rd. The other sought a zoning variation on lots 71 and 72, located on the northwest corner of Pine ave. and Park st., to permit a parking lot for the Faith church.

The petitions were referred to the zoning board of appeals, which will hold a public hearing on both matters August 4, at 8 p.m., in the village hall.

A REPRESENTATIVE of Mills and Sons, builders, appeared before the board to object to the proposed animal hospital to be erected on Northwest hwy., on the east end of the village. He told the board his company was erecting homes in the immediate vicinity and felt an animal hospital would depreciate values, as well as being objectionable to residents planning to puhchase homes in the area.

Trustee John Hoover, who has been investigating the matter, informed the board the village had no alternative but to issue the permit, as there was no village ordinance or law which prohibits such an operation.

Dr. Charles Esser, who plans to erect the hospital, gave the village until July 14 to issue the permit. If it was not forthcoming, he planned to mandamus the village.

Hoover asked for permission to continue negotiations with Dr. Esser, with the understanding he and Trustee Frederick Weber, who is working with him, make the final decision, based on their findings as to the legal aspects of the case. A motion to that effect was made and passed 4-2, with Trustee Robert Bishop and Richard Bronwell voting no.

FIRST READING of the amendment to the liquor ordinance to permit the addition of 1 beer license was read by the board. Trustee Forrest Davis wanted it pointed out to the public that if this amendment is approved it would only be reinstating a license which had previously been dropped by the village when the man who held it went out of business.

An ordinance providing for escrow funds to cover the cost of all public improvements in subdivisions will be changed in order to allow the developer to take out a completion or performance bond to make sure the work is done. The present ordinance calls for a cash escrow fund with the village based on the engineer's estimates for the work, plus a 15% cushion to take care of any damage which might be done as a result of faulty construction.

The latter has been found to create a hardship on builders and it was felt a completion bond would serve the same purpose without causing a hardship.

The new ordinance will ask for a completion or performance bond in the amount of 1½ times the engineer's estimate, plus a 15% cash deposit with the village, as a protection in event the work is not done correctly.

Charles J. Walters, right, 307 N. Bothwell, Palatine, initiates the formal opening of the new American Cancer Society offices in Mt. Prospect, with a ribbon-cutting ceremony which preceded an open house there June 24. Walters, who uses the Society's symbolic red sword to slash the ribbon, is the newly-appointed chairman of the Northwest Suburban Chapter of the Society. George A. Glow, 603 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights, chairman of the Chapter's victorious 1955 Cancer Crusade, looks on.

Audit Shows Village in Black At End of Fiscal Year

The village of Arlington Heights ended the year with a cash balance of $9,499.37 in the general operating fund according to the annual audit report approved by the village board at an adjourned meeting Tuesday night.

The report actually showed a balance of $16,655.30, but a transfer of $7,038.93 had to be made out of this balance to the police pension fund. Two smaller transfers, one of $45 and another of $72, had to be made to 2 escrow accounts, leaving the final balance on hand at $9,499.37.

DURING THE past year the village found it necessary to borrow $31,000 from the working cash fund, which is a trust fund, and transfers made to other funds are in the nature of loans to be repaid from collection of taxes received subsequently. However, during the past year the village repaid $29,500 to the working cash fund, borrowed the previous year, and due this account out of 1953 tax collections. The $31,000 loan will be repaid out of 1954 tax collections.

With the $804,000 appropriation just approved for the 1955-56 fiscal year there should be no need to borrow from the working cash fund. As one trustee and the village president explained, "It's better to appropriate more than you need, than to find out in mid-stream you don't have enough money, and then have to borrow it from another source."

E. F. Laurin and Associates, village auditors, in a letter to the board, made numerous recommendations for improving the bookkeeping system and for handling certain accounts in order to operate in a more efficient manner.

188-hp Buick SPECIAL 6-Passenger, 4-Door RIVIERA, Model 43

This 4-Door Beauty is the Newest Hit in Hardtops

You certainly ought to come in and see for yourself why this new kind of hardtop is headed for the best-seller list.

It's a Buick Riviera, of course.

Which means the low and rakish look of a Convertible – a solid steel roof overhead – and no center posts in the side window areas to obstruct your view.

But that's only the beginning.

Here you get two extra doors. They open to the rear compartment. So no one in the front has to move when someone gets into or out of the rear.

Here you get massive half-pillars on either side on which the front doors latch and the rear doors hinge. (That's why you see no center posts above the door line.)

Here, too, you get wholly new principles in body design and strength that give the extra safety of rock-firm solidity at the top, sides and bottom.

And here–bless those Buick engineers!–you get a lot more room in the rear compartment.

For the 4-Door Riviera gives you over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom – yet with no increase in wheelbase or over-all car length.

So we repeat–you certainly ought to come in and see this stunning new kind of hardtop.

It's the very last word in beauty, comfort, convenience. It's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series – the SPECIAL and the CENTURY. And it's all Buick – with Buick power, Buick ride, Buick handling–and the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Drop in today–tomorrow at the latest–and learn what Buick's all time record sales year can mean to you in the way of a whopping-big trade-in deal.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick

'Y' Mothers Club Picnic Saturday

Saturday the 'Y' Mothers club of the Northwest Suburban YMCA is sponsoring a family picnic at the Methodist Camp Grounds, Des Plaines. Games and special events will begin at 3 p.m., followed by a dip in the pool and supper.

All 'Y' members and friends are invited to come and bring their families. The charge for entrance into the park will be 20 cents per person, plus regular swimming rates. Cold milk and pop can be purchased at the park. Each family should provide its own picnic lunch.

Mrs. Richard Schwertfeger (right), Arlington Heights, was among the more than 600 passengers who sailed June 22 from Montreal on the liner, Empress, of France.

100 Girls Get In Trim For Annual Water Ballet

More than 100 Arlington Heights young ladies between the ages of 10 and 18 are busy practicing for the 10th annual water ballet to be given at the pool, August 12 and August 13.

"Bigger and better than ever" those who have had "sneak previews" of the early practice sessions report.

THE 10TH annual show is named "Broadway Is My Beat." Marjorie Payne, 712 S. Hi Lusi ave., Mt. Prospect, director of the ballet for the second consecutive year, has written the routines and planned the costumes.

"The first 3 weeks of practice have been devoted to strokes and stunts," she reports, "bue we expect to get into actual routines this week. Special lighting effects including the popular and professional 'black lighting' are being considered."

Last year's cast included 62 so that the increase in the size of popular show is more than one-third. Forty of the 1954 cast will participate in the current show.

People living in the vicinity of the Arlington Heights park district swimming pool may have wondered at the sources of the nostalgic music of the Show, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," "Sweet Georgia Brown," "Horse and Buggy," "I Cover the Water Front," "Skaters' Waltz," "Chinatown," and many other old favorites. These tunes have undoubtedly been wafted to the ears of many a perspiring housewife about her daily chores.

STRANGE things will be seen in and around the water on the nights of August 12 and 13, including swimming and dance numbers done by girls on ice skates wearing swirling skirts; panda bears; a group in black grease paint and basketball shirts. The latter, of course, will be none other than the world-famous Globetrotters, or the water ballet version of the same, not only playing basketball but even putting on their fabulous pre-game exhibition to the tune of "Sweet Georgia Brown."

The Globetrotters will be the Madison Square Garden phase of the show that takes New York as its theme and tells of the many facets of life in Gotham, including a peak at the gay Latin Quarter.

A few of the numbers will be Central Park buggy ride, the Bowery, Fifth avenue, China Town, Grand Central station.

Several surprise numbers will be announced at a later date, according to Miss Payne, who also produced several water shows at Wittenberg college, Springfield, Ohio, during her junior and senior years there. (AM

Ray Mair Takes Miss Juniet Johnson As Bride

Ray Gibbs Mair, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mair of Palatine, took Miss Juniet Johnson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Johnson of Ripon, Wis., as his bride June 11 at First Evangelical Lutheran church, Ripon. The Rev. E. E. Schieler officiated at the 3:30 p.m. ceremony. The church was decorated with pink and white peonies and white gladioli.

Organist was Mrs. Rudy Kurth and soloist Mrs. Robert Rieck.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original floor-length gown by Mme. Josephine Oro. It was of French lace over 3 skirts of nylon tulle. Lace was covered with pearl baroque embroidery. A juliet cap of matching lace was attached to a two-thirds French illusion veil. She carried a white Bible, the gift of the groom, on which were white stephanotis and ivy.

The bride's sister, Mrs. George Chapman of Madison, Wis., was matron of honor and wore a petal pink nylon sheer dress with contrasting rose sash. The waltz-length skirt was sunburst pleated, and the bodice pintucked and fashioned with a square neckline. Her hat was of hairbraid in petal pink with contrasting rose nylon sheer. She carried a white basket of mixed flowers.

Bridesmaids, Mrs. Jack Kehr, the groom's sister, of Oklahoma City, and Miss Frannie Olson of Chicago and Miss Nancy Gregory of Milwaukee, sorority sisters of the bride, were gowned identically to the matron of honor.

Paul Loeber of Palatine was best man, and ushers were Wesley Wilson of Winnetka, Christopher Pfrommer III of Baltimore and Steve Webster of Chicago, fraternity brothers of the groom, and George Chapman of Madison.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Republican house with Miss Christine Asher of Pompano Beach, Fla., Miss Patricia Bradley of Chicago and Miss Eleanor Lindquist of Evanston presiding at the punch bowl.

A supper was served at the Johnson home for about 100 guests.

The newlyweds honeymooned at Green Lake, Wis. The new Mrs. Mair's going-away suit was of navy blue wool trimmed with white and steel cut beads.

The night before the wedding a rehearsal dinner was served for 30 at the Heidel house.

Out-of-town guests were from Atlanta, Ga.; Lake Worth, Fla.; Lannesboro and St. Louis Park, Minn.; Baltimore; Seattle; Madison, Milwaukee, Hartland, Waupun, Berlin, Green Lake, Waupaco, Sheboygan, Oshkosh, Kewskung, Plymouth and Stevens Point, Wis; Oklahoma City, and Chicago, Evanston, Libertyville, Aurora and Winnetka.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

"Now Jericho was shut up from within and from without because of the people of Israel; none went out and none came in." And you know what happened when the Lord gave instructions to Joshua about the battle of Jericho: "the walls came a-tumbling down."

Men imagine security when walls are high and thick and gates are barred. But these are symbols of weakness, not strength. Strong walls, barred gates are witnesses to insecurity.

WHO REMEMBERS the faith that once was put in the Maginot Line? This concrete and steel successor to trench-warfare was the last work in protection; they said it would stand firm for a thousand years. But there was insecurity behind the Maginot Line. France collapsed, and (as I remember it) the Maginot Line was never involved in battle.

There was a depate on an anti-segregation resolution in the Presbyterian church in the U.S. (the so-called "southern" church) recently. One delegate said, "Many Christians today are like the early disciples—behind closed doors because of fear, perhaps fear of the Negro," but it could be a vague economic or political or social fear. It could be a symbol of basic personal insecurities finding a convenient target for expression.

GRAHAM GREENE writes of Henry James (in "The Lost Childhood") that he "had an obsessive fear of treachery which dictated not only his plots but also his elaborate conceits (only behind the barbed network of his style could he really feel himself secure) . ."

Walls are raised against insecurity; gates are barred against fear. Such fear and insecurity may be political, social or personal. But the walls testify to the insecurity behind them—and walls come a-tumbling down.

As we think of the distinction between the free world and the world behind the Iron Curtain, the real significance of the Iron Curtain is that it is not a sign of faith but of fear. We can take some hope from the fact that the State Department is lessening its use of the passport as a diplomatic technique. There is a danger in our "security-consciousness," a danger that we have lost some of the vitality which makes us what we are. Walls come tumbling down. Strong brave people have no need of them.

Better Off

Earnings of manufacturing production workers in Illinois average $80.47 per week and $1.97 per hour compared to $74.77 and $1.86 for the nation.

Scouts From NW Area At Camp Napowan

The second period at Camp Napowan opened Saturday, with 175 scouts from the various communities of the Northwest Suburban Council checking in.

Scouts returning from the first period indicate a happy experience, with everything at Napowan being right up to their fondest expectations. Every scout in camp made advancement in his scoutcraft, as well as becoming more skilled in swimming and use of boats and canoes. The highlight feature mentioned by many was the canoe trip on the Waupaca River.

The Wilderness Camp, a new unit this season, where scouts cook their own food and plan much of their own program, has increased their knowledge of scouting and taught them self-reliance by being better able to care for themselves in the woods.

Mary Lou Raupp Weds Marvin Schaeffer

—Stephany Photo

St. Mary Catholic church, Buffalo Grove, was the scene June 25 of the wedding of Miss Mary Lou Raupp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Raupp of Mt. Prospect and Marvin Schaeffer, son of the Herbert Schaeffers, also of Mt. Prospect. The Rev. George F. Ballweber officiated at the 10 a.m. ceremony. Music was by the choir of the church, and white carnations decorated the alter.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length dress and carried a bouquet of 3 white orchids with lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Magdalen Raupp, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a pale yellow gown with crystallette bodice and nylon tulle net skirt with bustle back. Her picture hat matched the gown, and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations with pink rose buds.

Bridesmaids, Miss Margie Sullivan, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Clara Raupp, sister-in-law, wore gowns of green with hats and bouquets identical to the maid of honor's.

Frances Raupp, cousin of the bride, and Gary Harting, cousin of the groom, were flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

With the apple season approaching, we have a recipe you'll want to keep handy and try when the first greenings appear on the market.

The recipe for this delicious apple cake is being shared with us by Mrs. Henry L. Wessies, who recommends it as a dinner or evening dessert.

The base of this unusual cake is similar to a cookie dough, somewhat solid and slightly crunchy. Over this, sliced apples are arranged in rows, and covered by a streussel topping.

The cake is served with whipped cream, and you have a tempting, appealing dessert.

Apple Cake

1¼ cups sifted all purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ cup butter
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons milk

Sift dry ingredients together. Have butter at room temperature. Cut butter into dry ingredients with a pastry blender as you would for pie dough.

Beat the egg yolk slightly with milk. Stir into above mixture with a wooden spoon.

Push and pat the dough into a buttered, 9 by 13 inch tin.

Slice 3 or 4 cooking apples on top and arrange in rows.

To make the streussel topping, mix together:

¾ cup sugar
1½ tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter

Sprinkle over top of cake.

Bake until apples are tender, about 30 to 45 minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

Jr. Woman's Box Social for Hospital

A box lunch will add dimes and dollars to the proposed Northwest Community Hospital center fund July 31 when the auctioneer "bids it up" at the Arlington Heights Junior Womans club box social. (It was erroneously stated last week that the Womans club was sponsoring the event, it should have read Junior Womans club.)

Everyone interested in helping obtain a hospital so badly needed in this thickly populated area will want to join the fun at 5 p.m. at the K. D. Hartmans' yard on Seegers rd., just south of Rt. 58, and east of State rd.

A SPECIAL invitation is being extended to all residents of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine, Barrington and Schaumburg townships, who will be served by the proposed hospital. Every dollar collected from the box lunches auctioned off at the social, will bring the hospital a dollar closer to becoming a reality. Its erection not only may mean the difference between life and death, but it will add to the comfort and convenience of patients and doctors alike, who will be using its facilities.

More details will be published next week. In the meantime the Junior Women urge residents to circle July 31 on their calendars and start thinking up a menu for a tempting box lunch to bring to the social.

Arlington Heights Nurses club reports its "doll of the year" is attracting a great deal of attention. It is slated to raise a $1,000 for the proposed Northwest Community Hospital Center. This Friday and Saturday will see the doll on display in the Barrington business district.

Still another group staging a benefit for the hospital is a special committee of the Arlington Greens association. They will hold a bake sale July 23, from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., at J. Svoboda Sons store, 12 S. Dunton. The "cooks" of Arlington Greens will donate cakes, pies, cookies and rolls for the event, and proceeds will go into the proposed hospital fund.

Association News

The first meeting in the VFW Hall July 5 certainly came up to all expectations. The hall seemed to incourage congeniality and the cocktail lounge was a refreshing retreat when the business meeting was over.

Bill Miller, civic affairs chairman, appointed the following members to serve on his committee: Maurice Cooney, Whitney Jansen, John Mundell, Ray Epsky, John Davis, Harry Compton, and Jack Flodin. It is interesting to note that one of the many duties of this committee is to sit in on the village board meetings every Tuesday evening thereby keeping the association up to date on the goings on in Arlington Heights.

Norman Sterner, who is the social chairman, announced the following appointments: John Coward, Tony Bengal, Ken Jennings, Bob Berger, Ben Zaborowski, Del Hultgren, Rosemary Baer, and Wally Johnson. At the present time plans are in the making for a family picnic sometime during the month of August. As soon as the date and location have been decided on it will be reported in this column. A street dance in the vicinity of Hickory and Beverley is also being organized and final plans will be published soon.

Ben Zaborowski, who is in charge of forming a mixed bowling league among members of the association, is all set with paper and pencil to take down the names of guys and gals who are interested in bowling Monday nights at 7 p.m. during the fall and winter season. Don't put it off, call now — Ben can be reached by phoning CL 3-5386.

Bob Berger, golf enthusiast, is lining up members who are interested in getting together during the summer, purpose being golf! A number have already signed Bob's list but there's room for more. Why don't you "approach" your phone, "keep your head down" and dial CL 3-8724. That's a "good shot" in the right direction!

Wally Johnson is casting out these days not for fish but for fishermen. If fishing is your weakness, hook on to Wally's line, CL 5-8025, and sign up to go fishing with your neighbors.

Karl Goodman, improvement chairman, is interested in hearing from home owners who have a dead tree in their parkway. A list of these home owners will be compiled and presented to Mr Horwitz in the hope of having the trees replaced. If your parkway tree has not survived phone Karl at Clearbrook 3-8082 no later than Sunday. So far there are 3 members on the improvement committee; Ken Jahnke, A. J. Baugous and Don Helbling. However, Karl would like a couple more who are interested in bringing about improvements in the Greens. If you would like to serve on this committee give Karl a call at the above phone number.

Bake Sale

As reported in last week's column the hospital committee headed by Marie George is planning a benefit to raise funds for the proposed Northwest Community Hospital Center. Here are the latest particulars. A bake sale is scheduled for Saturday, July 23 at J. Svoboda Sons, 12 S. Dunton, (across from the Jewel Store). The sale will begin at 9:30 a.m. and end at 1 p.m. or when all cakes have been sold. A "calling committee" will get in touch with all the ladies in the Greens for their baking contribution. Cake, pie, cookies, or rolls, whatever you wish to bake will be appreciated. If for some reason you are not contacted but wish to contribute, please bring your cake to Svoboda's store after 9 a.m. July 23.

Visitors - Coming and Going

Shirley and Junius Zolp entertained Bob and Jane Di Vall over the weekend. Bob, who is a captain in the air force, and his wife have been stationed in Japan for the past 3 years. The weekend was hardly long enough for the 2 couples to reminisce about the good times they have shared over the years. Junius and Bob began their friendship when they were pilot and co-pilot together during the second world war. Since that time the Zolps have visited the Di Valls at the different bases where they have been stationed. Needless to say, though, Japan was not one of the places they visited.

Margaret and Norman Sterner were happy to have Mrs. George Burton, Margaret's mother, spend 2 weeks with them. Margaret and Norman suspect that the real reason Mrs. Burton traveled from Detroit, Mich., was to get acquainted with her new grandson, Donald Roy, who is not quite 2 months old.

A fisherman's dream came true for Wally Johnson over the fourth of July weekend. Wally flew to the Grand Bahama Island, about 60 miles from Nassau, for 4 days of deep sea fishing as the guest of his employer. The men did their fishing off a 30 ft. cabin cruiser no less! Although the purpose of their trip was to catch blue marlin, the marlin seemed to have other ideas and did not put in an appearance. However, the trip was fruitful, or should we say "fishful" inasmuch as approximately 2000 pounds of fish were caught. The fishermen hauled in amerjack, red snapper, baracuda and mackerel to mention a few. Because of the high cost of freezing and shipping the fish to their homes, their catch was left on the dock to be picked up by natives, many of whom served as guides, to be sold for food among the natives at ridiculously low prices. Excitement broke loose when Wally struggled with and landed a 140 pound shark. Mr. Shark came to a quick end with a bullet through his fighting body. Wally took pictures to substantiate his fish stories.

Accidents

Mothers and fathers please read carefully: Most of us moved to the suburbs from the city to provide protection for our children; to enable them to play in safety without fear of speeding cars and trucks. Unfortunately this safe condition does not completely exist in the Greens. Most of the offenders are not from this area but sad to say there are a few who are in too big of a hurry to catch the morning train or pick up the groceries in town. Stop signs and speed limit signs have been posted in the Greens — they are there for your protection — obey them. It is also the duty of parents to instruct their small children to stay out of the streets. Just recently Mel Laseke, 1104 Haddow Ct., was taking his German Shepherd, Rex, for a walk when a car going approximately 60 miles per hour sped down Oakton hitting and seriously injuring the dog. As Mel so aptly put it "this time it was my dog, it could have been my child." The civic affairs committee is in the process of acquiring speed limit signs for the new section of Arlington Greens. Just a reminder — the speed limit throughout the Greens is 20 miles per hour and on Olive it is 25 miles per hour.

Three year old Joan Bludeau, daughter of Eileen and Gene Bludeau of Olive st. is hobbling around on a cast these days and all because of a step stool and a wading pool. Joanie was having a splashing good time for herself on the Fourth of July jumping from the step stool into the water, that is until she slipped and landed in the pool breaking her leg. Although the break was not apparent, Eileen realized something was definitely wrong by the way Joanie was crying. Since Gene was at work, neighbor Ben Zaborowski took Eileen and Joan to Resurrection hospital where a bone specialist was called. X-Rays taken, and the cast applied. If "good neighbor" awards were given in Arlington Greens, Ben Zaborowski would certainly merit one. This is not the first time that he has given moral and physical assistance to his neighbors in time of emergency.

Good Times

Jean and Ed Zelsmann of Clarendon were hosts at a pot-luck barbecue supper in their back yard July 3. On hand for the party were Hazel and Dan Salberg, Janice and Bob Swanson, Del and Chuck Hultgren from the Greens; and Marty and Bob Nichols, Marge and Allen Patten, and Eunice and Ted Fonfara from Arlington Heights. Mosquitoes were the only uninvited guests and their stinging "personalities" forced the other guests to retreat indoors for the balance of the evening.

Evelyn and Stewart Sage had a crowded back yard on the fourth of July. They invited 9 couples and their children to an all day picnic. The menu was elaborate including broiled hamburgers, hot dogs, shrimp, baked ham, potato salad, etc., not to mention the liquid refreshment. Those who ate and danced on the Sage's patio and later watched the firework display were Jean and Bill O'Sullivan, Ceil and Fred Mensch, Dolores and Bruce Haldeman, Jean and Bill List, Lorraine and Bob Zimmer, Judy and Pete Schmidt, Peggy and Bob Ponter, Arleen and Bob Brown, and Ginny and George Hartley.

Del and Chuck Hultgren's craving for pizza Friday night turned into a pizza party on the spur of the moment. Del checked with Francine and Olen Culpepper, Hazel and Dan Salberg and Jean and Ed Zelsmann and in less time that it takes to order the pizza the party was in progress.

FOR THE ANSWER TO THIS QUESTION

I realize I should have residence insurance, also liability insurance to cover injuries to people on our property, or elsewhere by members of my family. Does your Homeowners Policy add both Theft and Liability to a Residence Fire Policy for a small added premium?

Invite Newcomers To Join Club

Arlington Heights Newcomers' club is continuing to hold its regular monthly luncheon meetings throughout the summer months. Regular monthly evening meetings will resume in September. The membership committee is trying their best to contact all newcomers personally but find it impossible with the tremendous growth of the town.

Therefore, any one who has not been contacted and wishes more information, is asked to call the membership chairman, Mrs. Ted Fonfara, at CL 3-6345. There are a variety of activities, including a bowling league, bridge and pinochle round-robins, plus an occasional picnic and dance.

Golf league is now in session throughout the summer months. Golfers from the Newcomers' club meet at the Old Orchard golf course each Thursday morning at 9 a.m. A different event is scheduled for each week's golfing. The event for last Thursday was high total score on the odd numbered holes. Prizes were presented to the following: Flight A, Mrs. Russell Smith; Flight B, Mrs. Frank Renner; Flight C, Mrs. A. R. Mesnard. Golfing will continue through August, and those who still wish to participate, may call Mrs. Ronald White at CL 3-7635.

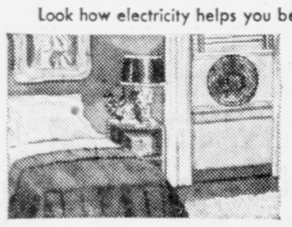
Public Service Company's "LITTLE BILL" says:

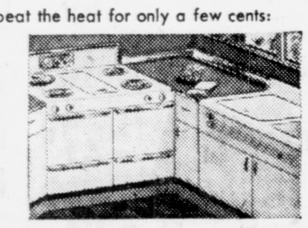
"I'll keep you cool electrically— for pennies a day"

For about 2 cents you can cool, clean and dehumidify the air in an average-size bedroom for a full hour. And if your room air conditioner has a thermostat, a cool night's sleep costs only a few cents more.

Look how electricity helps you beat the heat for only a few cents:



2 hours for a penny—that's all it costs to run a big night-cooling fan. Smaller fans will run 6 hours for a cent!



For pennies a day you can cook the coolest way. Electric ranges keep a kitchen up to 10 degrees cooler.

How Public Service Company keeps your electric bill down (while everything else goes up)

The hotter the weather, the more electricity your family uses to help beat the heat. But surprisingly enough, while almost everything costs double today, you get almost twice as much electricity for your money as you did 25 years ago.

How is Public Service Company able to keep your electric bill so low? One important reason is about a billion dollars' worth of modern plants and equipment your electric company has invested in during the last 25 years. This has helped increase the electrical production of our employes by more than double.

In fact, with this saving and others, the electricity you use today actually costs you less per kilowatt-hour than it did 25 years ago.

Association News

The first meeting in the VFW Hall July 5 certainly came up to all expectations. The hall seemed to incourage congeniality and the cocktail lounge was a refreshing retreat when the business meeting was over.

Bill Miller, civic affairs chairman, appointed the following members to serve on his committee: Maurice Cooney, Whitney Jansen, John Mundell, Ray Epsky, John Davis, Harry Compton, and Jack Flodin. It is interesting to note that one of the many duties of this committee is to sit in on the village board meetings every Tuesday evening thereby keeping the association up to date on the goings on in Arlington Heights.

Norman Sterner, who is the social chairman, announced the following appointments: John Coward, Tony Bengal, Ken Jennings, Bob Berger, Ben Zaborowski, Del Hultgren, Rosemary Baer, and Wally Johnson. At the present time plans are in the making for a family picnic sometime during the month of August. As soon as the date and location have been decided on it will be reported in this column. A street dance in the vicinity of Hickory and Beverley is also being organized and final plans will be published soon.

Ben Zaborowski, who is in charge of forming a mixed bowling league among members of the association, is all set with paper and pencil to take down the names of guys and gals who are interested in bowling Monday nights at 7 p.m. during the fall and winter season. Don't put it off, call now — Ben can be reached by phoning CL 3-5386.

Bob Berger, golf enthusiast, is lining up members who are interested in getting together during the summer, purpose being golf! A number have already signed Bob's list but there's room for more. Why don't you "approach" your phone, "keep your head down" and dial CL 3-8724. That's a "good shot" in the right direction!

Wally Johnson is casting out these days not for fish but for fishermen. If fishing is your weakness, hook on to Wally's line, CL 5-8025, and sign up to go fishing with your neighbors.

Karl Goodman, improvement chairman, is interested in hearing from home owners who have a dead tree in their parkway. A list of these home owners will be compiled and presented to Mr Horwitz in the hope of having the trees replaced. If your parkway tree has not survived phone Karl at Clearbrook 3-8082 no later than Sunday. So far there are 3 members on the improvement committee; Ken Jahnke, A. J. Baugous and Don Helbling. However, Karl would like a couple more who are interested in bringing about improvements in the Greens. If you would like to serve on this committee give Karl a call at the above phone number.

Bake Sale

As reported in last week's column the hospital committee headed by Marie George is planning a benefit to raise funds for the proposed Northwest Community Hospital Center. Here are the latest particulars. A bake sale is scheduled for Saturday, July 23 at J. Svoboda Sons, 12 S. Dunton, (across from the Jewel Store). The sale will begin at 9:30 a.m. and end at 1 p.m. or when all cakes have been sold. A "calling committee" will get in touch with all the ladies in the Greens for their baking contribution. Cake, pie, cookies, or rolls, whatever you wish to bake will be appreciated.

If for some reason you are not contacted but wish to contribute, please bring your cake to Svoboda's store after 9 a.m. July 23.

Visitors - Coming and Going

Shirley and Junius Zolp entertained Bob and Jane Di Vall over the weekend. Bob, who is a captain in the air force, and his wife have been stationed in Japan for the past 3 years. The weekend was hardly long enough for the 2 couples to reminisce about the good times they have shared over the years. Junius and Bob began their friendship when they were pilot and co-pilot together during the second world war. Since that time the Zolps have visited the Di Valls at the different bases where they have been stationed. Needless to say, though, Japan was not one of the places they visited.

Margaret and Norman Sterner were happy to have Mrs. George Burton, Margaret's mother, spend 2 weeks with them. Margaret and Norman suspect that the real reason Mrs. Burton traveled from Detroit, Mich., was to get acquainted with her new grandson, Donald Roy, who is not quite 2 months old.

A fisherman's dream came true for Wally Johnson over the fourth of July weekend. Wally flew to the Grand Bahama Island, about 60 miles from Nassau, for 4 days of deep sea fishing as the guest of his employer. The men did their fishing off a 36 ft. cabin cruiser no less! Although the purpose of their trip was to catch blue marlin, the marlin seemed to have other ideas and did not put in an appearance. However, the trip was fruitful, or should we say "fishful" inasmuch as approximately 2000 pounds of fish were caught. The fishermen hauled in amerjack, red snapper, baracuda and mackerel to mention a few. Because of the high cost of freezing and shipping the fish to their homes, their catch was left on the dock to be picked up by natives, many of whom served as guides, to be sold for food among the natives at ridiculously low prices. Excitement broke loose when Wally struggled with and landed a 140 pound shark. Mr. Shark came to a quick end with a bullet through his fighting body. Wally took pictures to substantiate his fish stories.

Accidents

Mothers and fathers please read carefully: Most of us moved to the suburbs from the city to provide protection for our children; to enable them to play in safety without fear of speeding cars and trucks. Unfortunately this safe condition does not completely exist in the Greens. Most of the offenders are not from this area but sad to say there are a few who are in too big of a hurry to catch the morning train or pick up the groceries in town. Stop signs and speed limit signs have been posted in the Greens — they are there for your protection — obey them. It is also the duty of parents to instruct their small children to stay out of the streets. Just recently Mel Laseke, 1104 Haddow Ct., was taking his German Shepherd, Rex, for a walk when a car going approximately 60 miles per hour sped down Oakton hitting and seriously injuring the dog. As Mel so aptly put it "this time it was my dog, it could have been my child." The civic affairs committee is in the process of acquiring speed limit signs for the new section of Arlington Greens. Just a reminder — the speed limit throughout the Greens is 20 miles per hour and on Olive it is 25 miles per hour.

Three year old Joan Bludeau, daughter of Eileen and Gene Bludeau of Olive st. is hobbling around on a cast these days and all because of a step stool and a wading pool. Joanie was having a splashing good time for herself on the Fourth of July jumping from the step stool into the water, that is until she slipped and landed in the pool breaking her leg. Although the break was not apparent, Eileen realized something was definitely wrong by the way Joanie was crying. Since Gene was at work, neighbor Ben Zaborowski took Eileen and Joan to Resurrection hospital where a bone specialist was called. X-Rays taken, and the cast applied. If "good neighbor" awards were given in Arlington Greens, Ben Zaborowski would certainly merit one. This is not the first time that he has given moral and physical assistance to his neighbors in time of emergency.

Good Times

Jean and Ed Zelsmann of Clarendon were hosts at a pot-luck barbecue supper in their back yard July 3. On hand for the party were Hazel and Dan Salberg, Janice and Bob Swanson, Del and Chuck Hultgren from the Greens; and Marty and Bob Nichols, Marge and Allen Patten, and Eunice and Ted Fonfara from Arlington Heights. Mosquitoes were the only uninvited guests and their stinging "personalities" forced the other guests to retreat indoors for the balance of the evening.

Evelyn and Stewart Sage had a crowded back yard on the fourth of July. They invited 9 couples and their children to an all day picnic. The menu was elaborate including broiled hamburgers, hot dogs, shrimp, baked ham, potato salad, etc., not to mention the liquid refreshment. Those who ate and danced on the Sage's patio and later watched the firework display were Jean and Bill O'Sullivan, Ceil and Fred Mensch, Dolores and Bruce Haldeman, Jean and Bill List, Lorraine and Bob Zimmer, Judy and Pete Schmidt, Peggy and Bob Ponter, Arleen and Bob Brown, and Ginny and George Hartley.

Del and Chuck Hultgren's craving for pizza Friday night turned into a pizza party on the spur of the moment. Del checked with Francine and Olen Culpepper, Hazel and Dan Salberg and Jean and Ed Zelsmann and in less time that it takes to order the pizza the party was in progress.

From the Police Blotter . . .

Dunton Avenue Building Corp. reported to police that 2 wheel barrows were missing from their building project.

Thieves broke into Bauer's Sinclair service station, July 10. The entry was discovered by the police at 3:13 a.m. Only thing found to be missing was $27 in change.

A prowler attempted to gain entry to a home at 31 S. Highland July 10, but apparently gave up after trying to force open 3 different windows in the house. Police are checking footprints found under the windows.

Firemen were called out July 8 to extinguish a roof fire on a barn in back of Park Lane Laundry. The building is owned by Mike Hoggay. They also answered a prairie fire call and one inhalator call. Carl Jarmuth had suffered a heart attack and he was pronounced dead by the doctor before the inhalator squad arrived.

Pastor Offers Proof He Knows How To Fish

Rev. W. C. Koester of Mt. Prospect is offering the above 8 lb. Walleye caught by him June 24, as proof that there is real fishing at the resort of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffman, Timbercrest on Lake Trelipe, Remer, Minn.

The Hoffmans are former owners of the Palatine Pastry Shop.

Other families at the Hoffman resort while Rev. Koester was there were the Martin Plate and Marvin Plate families of Palatine; Hollis Toynton family of Madison; Clair Smith family of Lincoln.

Trying for a repeat performance on Trelipe are the families of Henry Hasz, Mt. Prospect; Otto Kloske, Henry Garms, and Julius Drexler all of Palatine.

'Corny Capers' Is July 16 At Inverness

Inverness Garden club is holding one of its main events July 16 with their annual garden party "Corny Capers," at the Inverness field house.

Though this is an occasion for swelling the club treasury in order to carry out various civic projects that the club undertakes each year, it is also a "good time-fun" party for members, their husbands, new neighbors and friends.

Wentes' of Barrington are handling the supper, and music for dancing is being provided by Steve Budlane, of Inverness, who is setting up his hi-fi audio system for the evening at the field house.

A surprise entertainment feature is promised by the entertainment committee, which is headed by Mrs. Harold Carlson, and whose assistants are Mrs. Joseph Osten and Mrs. James McCartney.

President of the club, Mrs. Michael Garry, and her efficient helpers are all crossing their fingers and begging Clint Youle to promise a perfect weekend.

Here's Scouting

With Explorer Scout Bill Hogate

Philmont Bound Youths Leave Heights

Seven Explorer scouts from the Arlington Heights area left the Arlington Heights depot July 2, enroute to Philmont boy scout reservation, Arizona, owned and operated by the National Boy Scout organization, for 2 weeks of scouting skills and recreation.

The Explorers were, from post 66, Greg Rose, Rick Williams, Dan Krebsbach, and Pete Dunderdale; from post 37, J. Edward Timmerman, and from post 707 and 107, respectively, Tom Clark and Bob Seigel. They were escorted by professional scouter Tom James, from the Blackhawk district.

Other members from the 24-man delegation representing the Northwest Suburban council were, from Park Ridge, troop 11, Carl Duce Jr., Conrad Spenser Jr., John Kenny, William Swanson and Tom Koerwitz; troop 17, Eugene Nanay Jr., and George Rommel; troop 2, Ray Mancincelli; troop 21, Barrington, Pete Parcker Jr., and Carey Wickland; troop 23, post 153, and troop 53 respectively, John Torrens, Harry Molitor Jr., and Newel Esmond, and troop 29, Barrington, Jim Colburn.

Former Scouter Returns to Heights

Martin W. Freeman, known to most of the folks around her as "Marty," has returned to Arlington Heights after living in Beloit, Wis. Freeman, as most of the older scouters will remember, served as scoutmaster of troop 7, and cubmaster of cub pack 232. Those scouts or scouters who were privileged to associate with Marty, well remember his happy disposition and worthy achievements. He has no further scouting plans.

New Post Camps At "Larry's Lake"

The newly formed post 37, sponsored by the Lutheran Men's club of Arlington Heights, and headed competently by adviser Carl Klehm Sr., enjoyed camping and fishing at Larry's Lake, Ill., several miles northeast of Arlington, June 22 and 23.

Besides catching "whoppers" in Larry's Lake, the east also proved of special interest to the fivesome.

Other members of the party were adviser Klehm, Jack Anderson, and Walt Loy. The post chartered only recently, boasts a roster of nine boys, with more on the way.

Almquist Named President Of Our Saviour Group

Richard Almquist will serve the newly-organized brotherhood of Our Saviour United Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, as president.

Other officers elected at Friday's meeting at Dryden school include Woodrow Vogel as vice president, Robert McReynolds as secretary and Edward Elste, treasurer.

Brotherhood will not meet during August, but the executive committee will meet to discuss plans for the coming year and the projects to be adopted by the group. Next brotherhood meeting will be September 9.

Church council will meet tonight, Thursday, at the home of Richard Brettner, 2406 W. South st., at 8 p.m.

Circle III of the Women's guild will meet at the home of Mrs. G. Werner Fritsch, 2105 W. Eastman, next Tuesday evening 8 o'clock.

Next service of holy communion and reception of new members will be held August 7. Persons interested in affiliating with Our Saviour church are asked to call the Rev. George Hoog, Vanderbilt 4-0013.

Heat Wave Boosts Corn To Knee High

The first extensive heat wave of the season swept across the entire nation over the July 4th weekend. It spelled discomfort for vacationers, but boomed the growth of the corn crop. Temperatures of 90-95 degrees in the daytime and 70-75 degrees at night were common all over the corn belt.

This makes what farmers call, "corn weather." Accompanying this heat were plentiful showers amounting to 1" to 2" in most places, although a few small scattered areas may have received but little. All this added up on one of the best July 4th corn prospects in years.

THE CORN BORER also thrives under the hot, moist conditions favorable to corn growth. Corn borers start their feeding on the new leaves emerging from the whorl of the corn plant, and as the plant grows and the tassels start to push out, the voracious young borers go into the stalk itself. When they leave the leaves, it is too late to spray for control. Most corn fields in the corn belt were past spraying stage by July 10, except in the northern areas.

July 4 is the date traditionally set for "knee high" corn. This year in many areas corn was well above knee high. DeKalb crop observers in southern Minnesota and Iowa report much corn waist high and shoulder high, central Illinois reported 40" corn on July 4th and further south corn was tasseling.

SECTIONS IN southern Illinois and southern Indiana and western Kentucky reported corn planting being finished on July 1, as early planted fields were tasseling!

But the corn crop now is like the basketball team which has a good lead at the half; the last part of the game determines the final outcome. The team ahead at the half usually wins, but startling reversals have occurred.

Lessons In . . . . English

by W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "My manuscript is identical to yours." Say, "identical with yours."

Do not write, "Our's is the best," or, "Their's is the best." Write "ours" and "theirs." The apostrophe is not required.

Use "bring" to express motion towards a person or thing, "carry" to express motion away from.

It is neither good grammar nor proper to say, "He is her intended husband," when referring to a man to whom a girl is engaged. Say, "fiance."

Do not say, "I dislike those kind of books." "Kind" is singular. Say, "I dislike that kind of books."

Distinguish between "all ways" (every manner possible) and "always" (at all times). Thus: "He was always kind and generous." and generous."

Words Often Mispronounced

Intestine. Pronounce second i as and, "He was in all ways kind in tin, not as in time. Accent second syllable.

Precise. Pronounce the s as in so, not as z.

Sough (murmuring sighing sound, as of the wind). Pronounce either suff, or sow.

Sang-froid (freedom from agitation; coolness in trying circumstances). Pronounce san-frwa, both a's as in ah, accent second syllable.

Architect. Pronounce first two syllables as ar-ki, and not ar-chi, so often heard.

Pretext. Pronounce first e as in me, second e as in set, accent first syllable.

Words Often Misspelled

Decollete, though pronounced day-kol-tay. Serf (a slave); surf (the swell of the sea). Playwright, observe the w; copyright, no w. Demeanor; observe the or. Evenness; observe the two n's.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Infuse; to instill, as principles or qualities. "Let us infuse this sense of purity into our lives."

Enigma; anything inexplicable. "Who can solve the enigma of life?"

Prophetic; pertaining to a prophet or prophecy; predictive. "His words bore a prophetic significance."

Fictional; pertaining to fiction. "The book is fictional rather than historical."

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George L. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Governor Stratton should veto house bill 343, requiring payment of a minimum of $1.15 per day per person for food to aged indigents supported by the taxpayers through old age assistance, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois urged.

Amounts paid to old age indigents and other public aid recipients for food and other expenses are now determined by the Illinois public aid commission according to need through standard budget allowances that vary with the cost of living, the federation points out. Allowances are different in different areas of the state due to differences in the cost of living. H. B. 343 would require payment of at least $1.15 per day per person for food alone everywhere in the state regardless of need and regardless of any outside income the recipient might have.

H. B. 343 also sets a precedent for similar legislation at future sessions for aid to dependent children cases, blind assistance cases and other taxpayer-supported indigents, the Federation says.

While $1.15 a day for food doesn't sound like much, for a family of six it would amount to $207 a month for food. In September, 1953, there were 2,012 families of six or more supported by the taxpayers through aid to dependent children alone, according to a taxpayers' federation study, "Public Aid in Illinois."

Except for passage of H. B. 343, the record of the recent general assembly on public aid legislation was very good, the taxpayers' federation reports. Bills to abolish the Illinois public aid commission and create a new department of public assistance instead were defeated. Reasons for opposition by the taxpayers' federation were clearly stated on the house floor by the house majority leader and others working for passage of the bills when they argued that a department would be more politically conscious than the commission, would be more liberal with benefits, and more responsive to organized public aid groups.

Prospect Meadows

Community Fair

Another Prospect Meadows Community Fair is a wonderful memory. Excellent weather prevailed Saturday and Sunday afternoon and evening, although there was much concern Saturday morning when the large tent blew down during the storm, damaging one of the picnic tables.

Gratitude is expressed for the efforts of the workers and to the many local merchants whose donations helped make the enterprise a huge success. Everyone who attended had a fine time, and many became familiar with the park for the first time.

The highlight of Sunday evening was the awarding of the patio set and barbeque grill. The beautiful umbrella table and lounge chair was taken home by Marge and Bob Blim, residents of Bob-O-Link road. The grill went to Dora Aul of Chicago, who is Dorothy Schons' mother. Another of the large gifts awarded was a Nesco electric roaster, going to Lou Nye, and many lucky winners went home with 6 pound Wilson canned hams.

New Residents

A hearty welcome is extended to 2 new families; Carol and Wayne Wilkens, formerly of Chicago, are now located at 621 Bob-O-Link. Wayne is employed as a mechanic in Chicago. The Wilkens have 2 children, Billy, 19 months, and Jimmy, who was born June 28 at St. Francis hospital, Evanston. Jimmy weighed in at 7 pounds 11 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Kelter are settling themselves in their home at 401 Larkdale. The Kelters are originally from Chicago but have lived recently in Omaha, Neb. Mr. Kelter is an employee of Ehler and Wendorg, Prospect Heights builders. There are 2 Kelter children, Arthur, 8, and Susan, 5.

Twin Arrivals

Ann and Andy Talo are proud parents of twin boys. This is the second set of twins for the Talos, who had twin girls 2 years ago. The tiny baby boys are named Andrew and Kenneth, and their 4 sisters are eager to see them. They will be in incubators for approximately 2 months, due to their small size.

Birthdays

Patty Tucker celebrated her birthday with a theater party, which was preceded by cake and ice cream. Attending were Dianne Campbell and her mother, Gloria, Dean Valentine, Mark and Mike Pelletier, Karen Bethke, Marilyn and Charlotte Talo.

Entertainment

Five couples, friends of Olga and Paul Goodwin from the A&P general office, were entertained by the Goodwins at a buffet supper Saturday night. Later, all attended the Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gilbert of Meriden, Iowa, spent a weekend with Connie and Vic Heurlin. Vicky Heurlin is attending the YMCA day camp and is enjoying the summer more for it. Vic, who is a lieutenant in the Illinois National Guard, left Saturday for 2 weeks of summer training at Collins Field, Alpena, Mich.

Visiting for the weekend at the home of Marge and Bill Murdock were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Murdock and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Murdock and infant daughter, Sharon, from Cleveland, Ohio. Dan and Tom are Bill's brothers.

Doris and Reuben Potratz have certainly been busy lately. They took a weekend auto trip to Lincoln, Neb., lately to attend the annual reunion of the 451st Squadron Group. On the way home, they stopped at Rock Island to see the Charles Conway family, formerly of Larkdale lane.

Laast Thursday Doris and Reuben bade bon voyage to Doris' father, Peter Anderson, who left for Sweden. He expects to spend several months visiting relatives and friends. Friday the Potratzes and their son, Evan, drove to New Hampton, Iowa, for a weekend stay with Reuben's parents.

Meadowites On The Move

The J. F. McNaughton family spent an enjoyable weekend with John's mother at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. They had a fine time with resort cottage living, swimming, fishing, etc.

Laurie and Chuck Brazeau weekended with Chuck's brother, Ray, and family. Sunday they were boating on Fox Lake, then all came to Chuck's for an outdoor supper and an overnight stay. Monday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Hooton and family for a day of fun in the Brazeau's large pool, and other outdoor entertainments and meals.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Daley drove to Christopher in Southern Illinois for a 3-day visit with Marge's brother, Rev. Stephen Boros of St. Andrew church. They intended to stay longer, but were hurried home by the heat, only to find the Chicago area also sweltering.

Marge and Bob Blim traveled to Round Lake to see a wrestling match. The main event featured women wrestlers, a novelty which they enjoyed.

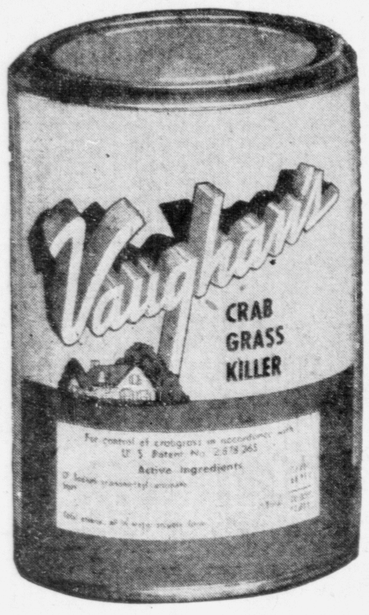
Freddie Jarm was an excited little boy when he landed a 3-pound catfish at Pistakee Bay. The family said the fish was delicious.

Guests of Anne and Vic Incinelli Sunday were Kay Crement and her son, David, and Peter Ripple and his children, Nancy, Peter Jr. and John. David and little Peter were especially happy since they both received a ham at the Fair.

Mrs. Daley entertained members of the grandmothers club Thursday evening. Since they had already completed their fair projects for their booth, they just relaxed and visited. Mrs. Daley topped off the evening with refreshments.

Ethel Larson's sister and brother-in-law, Sylvia and Ed Magoon and their children, Pat and Randy, visited at the Larson's home both Saturday and Sunday evening

KILL CRAB GRASS BEFORE IT RUINS YOUR LAWN



SODAR, Vaughan's new Crab Grass Killer, will stop this pest before it reaches the serious stage and matures a crop of seed to continue its vandalism next year.

In tests on plants with seed heads showing, made by researchers in a Philadelphia area with 60 per cent infestation, Disodium Monomethyl Arsonate (SODAR) gave 91 per cent crab grass control with no turf grass discoloration after the second treatment, and 100 per cent crab grass control with no turf grass discoloration after the third treatment. No other material out of seven tested was anywhere so effective.

Spray SODAR now, before crab grass gets older and tougher. Keep your lawn free of its disfiguring effects. If dead crab grass leaves vacant spots, you can sow lawn seed to fill them within three days.

SODAR goes much further than other crab grass killers. It can be applied in wet or dry weather, with temperatures from 50 to 100 degrees. Use a sprinkling can or sprayer.

Covering Northwest and West Suburban Sports

MAC SAYS

— by G. A. McElroy

ON A NATIONAL SCALE approximately 500,000 boys are enrolled in Little League this summer according to Peter McGovern, president of the organization. According to the national office the surface has just been scratched with census figures showing a potential of 12 times that number, or 6,000,000, eligible for Little League. The quality of major league baseball should improve in the near future due to this program and it needs to improve to regain the standard of play in the past.

Little League baseball has really caught on in the Chicago suburbs and every community sponsoring the activity is wondering how to finance the expansion of the program brought about by an interest that seems to know no bounds. We are all for this program and stated the fact frequently several years ago when we asked why Palatine did not sponsor the activity.

There are only two things about Little League we do not like. First, we do not think that state and national tournaments are desirable for boys of 10 to 13 years of age. Second, we think many parents put too much pressure on their boys at an early age.

Dad did not succeed too well as a player in his youth, but he sees in making a good player of his son a chance to inflate his own ego, though son may have little talent and mediocre interest in the sport.

Or, Dad was a fine player and is very impatient with son who does not have his natural ability. Dad feels his own prestige lowered unless his son plays outstanding ball.

Then there are the parents whose only thought in the program is winning games. A lot of poor sports can be developed among boys of the upper grade age if parents, team managers, and coaches alibi, make a scene when umpire decisions do not favor them, heckle opponents, etc.

LITTLE LEAGUE fills a need for summer recreation and competitive sport which we all realize has been in existence many years. It is not a substitute for a good school program of competitive sports, but merely supplements it.

However, in this area we believe Little League's mushrooming boom has been enhanced by the fact that grade schools in the suburbs pretty generally do not provide and in many cases do not believe in having a complete school program in sports and recreation.

We think Little League proves parents pretty generally want their upper grade youngsters to have sports training and activities. If, as we have so frequently heard mentioned, "Little League helps stop juvenile delinquency," then why do the same people do nothing about having a similar program in touch football, basketball and track during the school year in our grade schools? It is inconsistent and does not make sense to us.

ELGIN WILL BE THE SCENE of a lot of baseball activity in the next month. A St. Louis Cardinal tryout camp will be held at Wing Park for young men between 17 and 23 years of age next Monday and Tuesday, July 17-18. Wednesday of this week the state semi-pro tournament started at Elgin with a new state champ to be named by the end of the week.

August 19 the national tournament opens at Wichita, Kansas. In September a global tournament involving U. S., Asia, Europe, South America, Mexico and Canada will be held in Milwaukee county stadium.

TWO HUNDRED FIFTY Fox Lake baseball fans have reserved a special section behind the Boston Red Sox dugout for their game with the White Sox at Comisky Park July 22. It will be "Billy Klaus baseball day" and hometown Fox Lake fans will have a gift for the star shortstop of the Boston team.

The Red Sox, as of Tuesday, were just seven games out of first place and had won 24 of their last 29. Klaus, the Fox Lake boy, after eight years in the minors had come into his own. His fielding and hitting have proved a big factor in Boston's rise.

LEADING MONEY WINNERS of this past week in professional golf were Mike Souchak of Grossinger, New York with $17,948.74 while Cary Middlecoff of Memphis was second with $16,643.93. Third was Gene Littler, predited by many to become a second Hogan, with a total of $14,-792.26.

They say Hogan lost the national open to Fleck but that business boomed in Hogan clubs as a result, for both men used them. Fleck was first to announce he used them and gave his endorsement.

Golf is the biggest business in sports. Last year Americans spent $51,263,963 for golf equipment. Baseball and softball, in second place, totaled $26,072,531 or only slightly more than half as much. While quoting statistics on golf we might add there are 806 municipal courses in U. S., 1,392 private layouts open to the public on a daily fee basis, and 2,878 private clubs. There are setimated to be about 4 million golfers in U. S. and a good half of them play on municipal or privately owned daily fee courses.

All-Star Tilt Saturday In Arlington Pony League

The second annual Pony League All-Star extravaganza in Arlington Heights will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. at Recreation park and will pit the Redlegs against the "cream of the crop" from the other three league teams.

Last year the All-Stars edged the Redlegs, 4-2 in the diamond spectacle. The Stars' Paul Incapreo and Ed Kelley paced the attack with 2 hits each. Both of these boys just completed their freshman year in high school, Incapreo at Palatine and Kelley at Arlington. Bob Lockwood was the winning pitcher in the tilt.

Taking a big double-bill from the Phillies July 9, Manager Jack Mutti's Indians moved back into title contention in the local Pony League. Denny Schumacher, one of the outstanding performers in the division this summer, and Phil Gustafson, a Pony League "rookie" who played for the Little League Red Sox in '54, captured the mound triumphs for the Indians. Schumacher allowed 7 hits in the opener; Gustafson, 5 in the other contest.

THE INDIANS piled up 31 runs in the pair of victories, taking 15-3 and 16-8 decisions. Schumacher and Dave Butts wielded the big sticks with 3 hits each. Denny slapped out 3 singles and scored 4 runs and Butts collected a single, double, and triple.

In the completion of a game interrupted by rain on June 4, the Indians and Gustafson piled up their 16-8 margin in the second tilt, July 9.

Besides toiling on the mound for the victors, Gustafson also picked up 3 singles and scored 2 runs in 5 trips to the plate. For the losers George Cole got 2 for 3 and John Link collected 2 for 2.

THE PHILLIES were involved in the other Pony League encounter, this time gaining an 8-4 victory over the Orioles. Strong relief work by lanky Ted Schultze spelled victory for the Phils. Schultze came in in the third and allowed only 1 run and 3 hits in the final 4 innings. Lee Magnuson, a center fielder by trade who has been playing with the local legion nine, took the loss.

Long ball hitting was in evidence in the contest with Magnusson bagging a homer, and Joe Orgler, Ron Hosek, Jeff Pratt, and Kent Danes getting doubles.

Bulletin

Because of the tie games recorded this summer as ½ game won and ½ game lost, the Indians (6-3) and Redlegs (5-2-2) were tied Saturday when the team to play the All-Stars was to be chosen. Consequently if the Redlegs won the game between the 2 teams Wednesday night, they will face the Stars, but an Indian victory would have necessitated a flip of the coin to determine the leader. The Redlegs whipped the Orioles 9-7, Monday night.

Refreshments will be sold at the All-Star contest by the Women's Auxiliary, according to Alta Hutchinson, director of public relations for the league. Game time is 1 p.m. at Recreation Park.

To Take Pics Of Little Leaguers At Arlington Hts.

First pictures of Little League teams will be taken in this area Saturday morning when Paddock Publications staff photographers line up 32 teams in the Arlington Heights program. Pictures of teams in other towns of this area will be scheduled in succeeding weeks.

THE PICTURES of Heights teams Saturday will be taken, "rain or shine." Photographer will seat the boys, team by team, on bleachers located between the swimming pool and tennis courts. In event of heavy rain, pictures will be taken inside the fieldhouse.

Timing is important. With more than 500 boys involved, players are asked to report on times assigned, and cooperate with photographers and other adults assisting in the mass photo effort.

MAJOR, PONY and Colt league teams of Arlington Heights program are asked to report promptly at 9:30 a.m. for pictures. This will involve 17 teams. Members of minor and intermediate league teams are asked to report for pictures at 10:30 a.m.

The pictures have always proven popular in sports pages of Paddock Publications, and the editors are planning to run pictures of all 120 Little League teams within the area. This will involve many issues of the paper, though it is hoped pictures of all teams can be run by Labor Day.

ORDERS FOR PRINTS of each team can be left at publication office, along with name, address, phone, name of team, and 1 dollar per 5"x7" print. Experience has taught the editors no orders can be recognized until that picture of George Washington arrives in the office.

Fords To Battle Oak Park, Park Ridge In Weekend Bill

by BOB FRISK

There'll be no rest for the weary this weekend as Arlington's Junior Legion team is engaged in its severest test of the summer with 4 games in 3 days, including a big doubleheader Saturday at home with the Oak Park post, one of the strongest teams in this area.

The weekend series will give Manager Dave Ryden a chance to witness what his 5-man pitching staff—with the possible addition of third baseman Pat Brownell—can do under the pressure of a tight schedule.

Friday's contest at Oak Park opens the weekend show and Saturday the locals will host the same team at Recreation Park in a double-bill starting at 3 p.m. Sunday the Poole Fords will travel to Park Ridge to meet the strong Park Ridge A squad, current ninth district leaders. As a warm-up the Fords were slated to battle Park Ridge B Tuesday with a possible game today (Thursday) with one of the area teams.

AS FORECASTED early in the campaign, all the Fords needed before they started to move was a little game experience. After Saturday's 3-2 victory over the Van Buren post of Chicago, the locals had rolled to 5 straight victories and had boosted their season slate to 7 wins, 4 losses, and 1 tie—3-3 with Winnetka.

Hitting is still a little spotty for the Legion nine, but everyone is looking a lot better at the plate. Pony Leaguers Al Hutchinson, Lee Magnusson and Bob Barbour have combined for 5 hits in 14 trips to the plate. Particularly impressive has been Ed Meinken who, although swinging only .212, has been meeting the ball well. Defensively, Ron Ashley and Pat Brownell are standing out. According to Ryden and in this reporter's opinion too, Ashley has no peers as a defensive outfielder and Brownell is playing outstanding ball at the hot corner for a boy whose defensive ability was questioned at the outset of the season.

SUNDAY'S exhibition contest with the semi-pro Redwings attracted a large turnout, and the indications are that there will be more games in the future between these two ball clubs. Although the Redwings captured a 6-3 victory behind the slants of a little lefty, Bob Laskowski, the contest was well-played—and well-pitched with the exception of a shaky first inning for the legion's Johnny Sujack.

Sujack walked 4 men in the initial frame, yielded one hit— a booming triple to right center—and had one error behind him. Net result of the inning were 4 runs for the Redwings and a lead they never relinquished. Laskowski fanned 9 in his stint, walking 4.

The Poole Fords collected 6 hits in the contest with Sujack, Dan Vittum, and Meinken getting the hardest blows. Both Meinken and Vittum punched out 2 hits.

ANOTHER LAST inning victory was recorded, July 7, for the locals when Jim Summers, leading hitter on the club with a .333 mark, slammed a 2-run homer, scoring Smeby ahead of him, to provide a 6-4 win over Riverside.

The host R-B nine collected only 1 hit in the contest off Arlington starter Denny Thill and Al Smeby. Smeby, turning in a spectacular relief job, hurled 4 2/3 innings of hitless ball, striking out 9 to gain his second victory of the season. earned.

Third sacker Brownell wielded the big bat of the contest with 2 safeties, including a double. The only hit by the losers was a first inning single by second baseman Bob Landess.

FOR THE SECOND straight game Smeby came in relief to pitch outstanding ball and help the locals edge Van Buren Post of Chicago, 3-2, July 9 at Recreation Park. The right hander relieved Jerry Klement in the third and allowed only 1 hit in the remaining 4 1/3 innings.

Arlington countered their initial pair of runs in the opening inning on an error off the bat of Brownell, walk to Bob Getts, and three-base smash by Klement to right-center field. The deciding tally came in the third. Ed Meinken led off with a long double to left and came home on Summers' knock to right field.

A look at Smeby's remarkable record for non-conference games indicates that the hurler is starting to come into his own and should be a big help for the remainder of the campaign. In 9 innings of relief work Al has given up 1 unearned run, 1 hit, walking 5 and striking out 14.

Official averages for the legion team, compiled by public relations manager, Randy Thomas, reveal Lee Magnusson on top of the batting totem pole with 3 hits in 7 bats for a .429 mark. Among the regulars Summers has a .333 average and Klement and Thill have .294 and .290 marks respectively.

Official Averages:

	AB	R	H	PCT.
Magnusson	7	0	3	.429
Hutchinson	5	2	2	.400
Summers	24	4	8	.400
Klement	17	1	5	.294

Sujack	3	1	30 2-3	14	39	12	0.87

Thill	1	0	16 1-3	9	12	8	1.12
Klement	0	0	2 2-3	6	1	2	5.99

Getting set to take his cut is Bob Getts, a valuable member of the Arligton Junior Legion team. Currently filling in at shortstop, Getts has produced 7 hits, including a double and home run, in 25 trips to the plate for a .280 average. Backstop in the picture is Ed Meinken, one of the best receivers in the ninth district.

Sox Win, 4-3; Cubs Gain In Palatine Little League

by AUGIE BOEHM

Friday night's first game in the American division of the Palatine Little League was a contest between the first place Sox and the winless Tigers. Although the Tigers outhit the Sox, the latter came out on top, 4-3 due to 6 walks by Tiger pitchers. Michaels got the only Sox hit while McIntosh banged out 2, and Foster and Bassett 1 each for the Tigers.

The Sox scored the winning run in the last inning. Seidel walked and was out when McAffee hit to the third baseman who elected to play the runner and threw him out at second. McAffee moved to second when Fiddes walked, advanced to third on an infield out, and scored the winning tally on an overthrow.

Tigers	012 0—3-4
Sox	021 1—4-1

Batteries: Tigers—Smith and Foster; Sox—Rose, Seidel and Michaels.

THE SECOND GAME Friday saw the Indians defeat the Yanks, 4-3. The longest blow of the game was a circuit wallop by Hicks of the Yanks. Nelson pitched all the way for the Indians, struck out 13 and gave up only 3 passes. Indians scored the winning run in the fourth on a walk to VanHooser, single by Schaefer, walk to Seehausen and a walk to Boehl. Hicks, Stoneking and Hicks shared mound duties and gave up 10 free passes.

Yanks	011 010—3-4
Indians	003 10*—4-5

Batteries: Yanks—Hicks, Stoneking, Schur and Hicks; Indians — Nelson and Quagle, Clark.

IN THURSDAY'S first game in National League action the Cubs defeated the Cards, 5-1. Rogan, Helms and O'Reilly had singles for the winners, while Marker and Knowles singled for the losers.

In the night-cap the Braves and Giants played to a 2-2 tie in 5 innings. Smith had a single and McClement, a double for the Braves, and Koerner, Christensen, and Rotroff had singles for the Giants.

Monday the Cubs slugged out a 10-3 win over the Braves. For the Cubs O'Reilly had a home run and 2 singes, Rogan had a double and singles, and Miller had 2 singles.

HELPING OUT the Braves' cause, Trenchard collected a double and single and O'Brien had a triple and single. Miller and Kehe handled the winner's pitching chores with O'Brien and Chessman working for the Braves.

In a free-scoring contest the Cardinals dropped the Giants, 12-4. For the winners Knowles had a home run and double, Seisman had 2 singles, Campbell, 2 doubles and a single and Moss had 3 singles.

Collecting one-base knocks for the losers were Koller, Christensen, Koener, and Mullen.

Arcaro To Ride Favored Nashua In Chicago Debut

by HARRY SHEER

That nationally famous combination of Belair Stud's sensational Nashua and Master Jockey Eddie Arcaro make their 1955 Chicago debuts in Saturday's $155,000 Arlington Classic.

Not since Citation and Arcaro and Native Dancer and Eric Guerin, has such a sterling combination of horse and jockey so dominated a stakes event. America's Mr. Jockey and America's most magnetic thoroughbred, aiming at their fifth "hundred-grander" this year, should lure a throng of some 45,-000 at the northwest suburban track.

Long a major event in deciding this year's 27th Classic one mile test matches a spectacular thoroughbred against the top 3-year-old contenders still in training.

WHILE NASHUA appears an overwhelming choice for Saturday's net prize of some $100,000, one can't discount the chance of a major upset.

The Arlington Classic has been the scene of some of racing's greatest upsets and for a time was chiefly responsible for the Arlington dubbing: "graveyard of champions." While the upset motif has attached iself to the Classic, the race itself has grown into an annual affair until today it rates along side the "triple crown" in importance.

Great champions of the past have added the Classic honors to winner's roster sparkles with such names as Gallant Fox, Inlander, Cavalcade, Challedon, Attention, Twilight Tear, Mark-Ye-Well, and Native Dancer.

Nashua, rugged son of the imported and successful sire, Nasrullah, figures to add his name to this imposing array of great thoroughbreds. A victory in the event is a must if the colt is to remain in the running for the three-year-old crown.

LIKE ANOTHER great champion, Native Dancer, Nashua likewise carries an impressive victory into the Classic test. Like Native Dancer, his lone defeat as a three-year old was the Kentucky Derby. Whether or not he'll emulate "the Dancer" to the extent of a 9-length victory in the Classic remains to be seen Saturday.

Logical challengers are Brookfield Farm's Impromptu, fleet sprinter who equalled the Arlington mark of 1:22 for seven furlongs while winning the $25,000 Warren Wright Memorial by three lengths; Jan Burke's reliable Dedicate with jockey Sammy Boulmetis aboard; E. Gay Drake's Dogoon, recent second-place finisher in the Warren Wright; and Calumet Farm's Trentonian, well-bred son of Bull Lea.

There's the possibility a few others might sneak in Saturday, but all indications point to a crowd-pleasing spectacle in Nashua and Arcaro versus the field.

Braves Jolt Sox From 1st In Northwest Pony League

by BETTY KIRCHHOFF

The Braves Allan Kruse broke up a 9-9 tie with a seventh inning single to give the Braves a 10-9 victory over the Sox last Saturday at Lions Park. Al's single scored Arthur Tews who had preceded him with a single. Through and through it was a thrilling and tight battle touched with bitter rivalry. The Sox pushed ahead 5-0 in the very first inning on 4 walks, 2 hits, 2 stolen bases, and a wild pitch. The victors kept pecking away at that lead though until finally in the fourth they knotted it up at 5 all. After that the lead changed hands a couple more times but the Braves ended up on top 10-9. With this victory the Braves take over top position in the Northwest Pony League for the first time this season.

Sunday, the Sox whipped the Giants 4-2 behind George Bork's excellent chucking. George gave up but 3 hits, all singles, while passing 4 and fanning 11. Dick Hill pitched for the Giants and allowed only 4 hits in a losing cause. The Sox 2 winning runs were unearned. Although they lost, the Giants seem to have improved immensely since the start of the season. One of these days they're going to cause some real trouble for one of the top teams.

LAST WEEK the Cubs split with Prospect Heights teams. Thursday, they beat the Giants 5-4 but then Saturday the Indians turned the tables on them with an 8-2 victory. At the end of 3 innings in Thursday's contest, the Cubs held a 3-0 lead. That was quickly turned into a 4-3 deficit though when Bill Phar and Dick Hill clouted homers, each with a man on base, in the fourth. The Cubs came up with the winning tally an inning later on 2 walks and a stolen base.

Saturday, the Cubs were never even in the game. With quite a few of their boys on vacation, they had an outfield consisting wholly of second string players. The Indians came up with runs in the first, third, fifth, and to top it off they doubled their total so far with 4 in the sixth to put the game on ice. Tom Reinsma, their No. 1 hurler, went the route for the victory and Al Freitag was the loser. Reinsma struck out 8 and walked no one in turning in his best pitching performance of the season.

In another game Thursday, the Indians and Wheeling played to a 4-4 tie. The Indians tallied a run in the last inning to bring the score up even. This contest will be completed at a later date.

Second round:

Bokelman Hurls 3-Hit, 2-1 Win

by TOM KOUROS

Arlington Redwing bats filled the air with so many well-hit baseballs last Sunday, that for a time it seemed the game was being played in an overcast, instead of a cloudless, sunny afternoon. However, the locals watched their opponents, the Chicago Barons, counter with a defensive unit that all but silenced their offensive efforts, and it remained for their great pitching star, Dick Bokelman, to lead them to an important 2-1 victory.

Bokelman, the ex-St. Louis Cardinal hurler, was superb on the mound. Dick gave up only 3 hits, all singles, and walked no one. Known primarily as a pitcher who makes you "hit into the dirt," Bokelman, nevertheless, struck out 7, allowing only 4 balls to be hit out of the infield.

THIS CONTEST was marked with thrills and excitement from the very beginning. Ebeling, Redwing outfielder, led off in the first inning with a tremendous drive over the right-fielder's head, but sharp defensive ability by the Barons cut Ebeling down at home plate.

The Redwings' "hitting" and the Barons' "fielding" was the way it went as the two teams played scorelessly through the fourth inning. In the fifth, two infield hits by the Barons pushed across a run and a 1-0 lead.

The Redwings tied it up in the sixth on two hits by Blumenthal and Overland that set the stage for the hectic ninth. An error by the shortstop and a hit by Shade put Baron runners on first and third with 2 outs. Johnson, number 4 hitter, stepped to the plate, but Bokelman fanned him on 4 pitches.

WEISZMEN LED off the Redwing ninth with a hot smash to the shortstop who hurried his throw, Weiszman taking second on the overthrow. Sepke grounded to third and Bokelman flied to right for two outs. Ebeling was intentionally passed, and that brought up Bob Carlson who lined a hit to center, scoring Weiszman with the winning run.

This was an important win for the team. It marked the opening for the Greater Midwest Semi-Pro league championship. The Chicago Barons were a tough obstacle and previously had lost only 1 game in league competition. This Sunday the Redwings will meet another first round winner at Arlington's Recreation Park. Game time will be at 2:30 p.m.

Harness Racing At Sportsman's Park

A total of $35,000 in added features has been announced for the final three weeks of the Sportsman's Park Harness Meeting. The six races added by Racing Director Jerry Baier are in addition to the two $12,000 events on July 16 and 23.

The $12,000 Governor's Cup Pace will pit the nation's top pacers on next Saturday's card. Meadow Rice, Roadmaster, and B'Haven have already cinched berths in this richest of pacing events in the Chicago area.

Friday night, July 15, another $5,000 event is set for such stars as Phil Bob, Blue Goose, Andiamo, Little Ralph and others of their calibre. Phil Bob showed that he was glad to get his master back in the sulky Wednesday night by turning in an impressive 2:03 mile. Phil Milburn, Jr. his owner-driver was making his first drive since suffering a concussion on June 23.

Friday, July 29, will be another $5,000 Free For All Pace Date, and on the final night at Sportsman's, July 30, a $10,000 Trot is scheduled which Baier has aptly named "Open To the World."

Homer Records

Through games of June 8, the National league had 426 homers. That would mean about 1,300 for the year, if the pace is kept up. The present National league record is 1,197, set in 1953. The American Leaguers had hit 354 round-trippers, at a pace of 1,170 for a season. Their present mark is 973, set in 1950.

Athletics Top Yanks, 5-0, For 1st Arlington LL Win

by BOB FRISK

July 8, 1955—Mark that date down in the annals of the Arlington Heights Little League!

For 2 years and some 24 games, the American loop Athletics failed to win a league game, surviving complete victory famine with a 12-1 win over the National League Braves in a 1954 post-season playoff. Then, last Friday night, Manager Frank Frohne's A's turned spoilers in A. L. action, blanking the League-leading Yankees, 5-0, with little Rich Wallhoff twirling 1-hit ball.

The 5-0 victory was indicative of the type of ball the cellar dwellers have been playing lately. In 2 earlier contests the week before they were edged by the Yankees, 4-2, and Red Sox 2-1.

ANOTHER LAST place club which has been acting up is Bill Heitz's outfit, the Braves. Saturday the Braves belted Russ Walters' Dodgers, 6-4, as Denny Koeppen hurled shutout ball until the losers exploded for 4 last inning tallies. The victory was the second of the season for the Braves over the Dodgers and both losses have severely hurt the latter's pennant chances. Manager Ben Fleury's Cards, 6-4 victors over the Dodgers Monday, are the current title threats in the N. L. division. With the Cubs fading of late, the Cards are moving up and at this writing had a 7-4 mark compared to the Cubs' 6-3 slate.

THERE IS one other game to report in both the American and National Leagues with the rains of last week cutting slightly into the schedule. The rampaging Cards bounced the Cubs, 11-9, and the Yankees slipped by the White Sox, 4-3, with a 3-run final inning.

Tom Benson gained the win for the Cards in the 11-9 contest, and he also added a double and single to the attack, scoring a trio of runs. Several boys gained hitting honors in the affair: Bob Hutchinson collected 3 straight singles and tallied 2 counters, Larry Pakyz got 2 for 4, including a double and triple, and Frank Harris produced 2 singles in 3 trips.

YANKEES' Gregg Beckway and White Sox' John Lacina fashioned a strikeout dual, July 9, with Beckway getting the nod in strikeouts, 14-9, and also gaining the victory, 4-3.

Both teams countered a single tally in the first segment, then waited until the sixth and final inning for any more offensive display. The Sox pushed across a pair of runs in the sixth to gain an abbreviated 3-1 lead as the Yanks bounced right back with 3 game—deciding markers.

OVER IN THE Central League the Giants met defeat but still maintained a comfortable 3½ game lead over the second place Senators. The Pirates, rapidly becoming one of the most dangerous teams in the loop, are only ½ game out of second with the Tigers appearing destined for a fourth place finish — currently 8 games off the pace.

Tom McGrath bested Terry Seelenbinder to give the Pirates their 5-2 victory over the pace-setting Giants. McGrath struck out 6 in his 6 innings of work and also garnered a pair of single. Jim Sikorske, the Pirate's long ball threat, rapped out another homer and single and tallied 2 runs. Other 2 for 3 stickmen were Lee Garr and John Weidner of the Giants.

Lee proceeded to strike out the next 2 batters and throw out the third to preserve the victory.

The victors' big fifth inning rally which saw 5 runs cross the plate had Denny Fitz-Patrick leading off with a single, stealing second and tallying the typing marker on Johnny Weidner's double. The Tigers' Glenn Schmidt captured game batting laurels with a double, triple and single in 3 bats.

Lions' Rally Whips CC, Schwan's Triumphs, 5-0

by BILL GODMAN

The Lions rallied for 6 runs in the sixth inning to defeat the Country Club 10-8 in a wild and wooly Mt. Prospect Little League game at Owens Park on July 8th. The game was delayed almost 2 hours because of the muddy field.

The contest saw everything from a balk to a courtesy runner. After the Lions scored one in their half of the second, the Country Club got 3 in their half of the second on singles by pitcher John Koester and center fielder Don Coey, a hit batsman, a triple by Jim Anderson (he also got another one), a walk to Mike Napoli, and a double by catcher Paul Koester. They added 1 in the third, 2 in the fourth, and 2 in the fifth on only 1 hit. That hit was another triple by Anderson. He scored on a balk by the Lion's pitcher, Bob Manchester.

The Lions pushed across 3 in the fifth to set the stage for their big sixth inning. The Country Club was the victim of 2 unlucky breaks in the sixth when 2 routine infield flies fell for hits because they were lost in the sun.

THE BIG BLOW of the Lions productive sixth inning was struck by catcher Roger Haenggi, when he singled to right field to drive in Manchester and shortstop Keith Grams with the winning runs.

The pitching for the Country Club was handled by John Koester until he was relieved in the sixth by Ron Schafer, the eventual loser. Manchester went all the way for the Lions.

The Schwan's Masonry team finally broke into the win column of the Mt. Prospect Little League by dumping the Builders, 5-0, at Owens Park Friday night.

This game was one of the most tense and exciting contest played this year. Glen Johnson provided the greatest thrill with his bases full home run of the Schwan's in the sixth inning. Pitchers Thome for the winners and Runo for the Builders were in top form with many strikeouts. Thome was in trouble only in the first inning and he remedied this by starting a double play.

Not Intentional

No pitcher has ever thrown intentionally at Minnie Minoso of the White Sox. That's the way the flashy outfielder looks at it. When he got hit by Bob Grim of the Yankees a couple of weeks ago, says The Sporting News, it was the fiftieth time he had been hit by a pitch in four seasons. Eight times he was hit in the head. "But I rather die than quit playing," says Minoso. "Is best game in the world. All the time I get hit, those pitchers don't mean it. Is accident every time."

Oven-Barbecued Muskrat

Muskrats which give evidence of being a bit too gamey can be toned down by a 12 to 24 hour soaking in vinegar-salt water. To each quart of water add 4 tablespoons salt and 1 cup vinegar.

Other precautions in preparing muskrat—or musquash, as it is known in some sections—are to remove whatever fat is found on the animal and also the musk glands on the belly along with any other "kernels" observed in the cleaning process.

Oven-barbecued, it will tickle your palate into calling for a second serving and is easily prepared. Cut 2 young muskrats into serving pieces and brown in hot fat. Transfer to baking pan, cover with barbecue sauce and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour. Spoon sauce from the pan over the meat frequently.

For sauce: melt 1 stick of butter in sauce pan, add 1 large onion grated, ½ cup water, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons paprika, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon brown sugar and 2 tablespoons tomato paste. Simmer a few minutes before pouring over meat. (Sp

Pope Wins Tourney

Successfully defending his 1954 championship, Mike Pope fired rounds of 78-73-74-67 for 292 to capture the DuPage County Amateur tournament, July 3, at Arrowhead.

Pope's final round of 67 tied the course record. Runner-up in this year's tourney was Bruce Hodak. Joe Wiesbrook gained the, third spot.

Palatine Legion Drops 2

Palatine's American Legion Junior baseball team dropped 2 more decisions the past week, losing to Portage Park 5-0 and to Park Ridge (A) 8-2. Bob Hamilton pitched a no hit game against Portage Park for 5 frames but 3 hits, 2 errors and a base on balls let the roof cave in for 5 runs in the sixth and that was the ball game. George Beyer and Hamilton got Palatine's only hits off Otto. Palatine lost 8-2 at home to Park Ridge Tuesday night as the winners tallied 6 times in the sixth inning to break a 2-2 tie score.

Bob Hamilton is leading Palatine hitters with 12 hits in 24 trips for .500 while Bruce Forke has 7 in 19 trips for .368.

Hitting Streaks

Nearly everyone knows, says The Sporting News, who has the longest hitting streak in major league history. It was, of course, Joe DiMaggio who, in 1941, hit safely in 56 straight games. But who holds the record for the next longest streak? You can stop some of the experts with that one. The answer, says the Sporting News, is Ty Cobb. He hit safely in 40 straight games in 1911.

Painters Top Pharmacy In Rob Roy Tuesday Golf

Prospect Heights Pharmacy won 2 of its matches and appeared to have Webber Paint well in hand Tuesday in the Rob Roy league until Vince Hoffman posted 40-7-33. This score plus Norm Peterson's win was enough to give the Webber squad the remaining 5 points.

Second place Wheeling Bowl took it on the chin from Dunteman Dairy, 5½-1½. The return of Harvey Laufmann to the Dairy team lineup was all that was needed to put them back on their feet. Harv's 39 was the big punch in tonight's win.

Third place Hartman House lost to the Prospect Heights Service Station, 5-2. Howie Franks, Art Wilmes, and Joe DeMichele were a combination that was a little too tough for the Hartman House to beat.

FOURTH PLACE Prospect Variety, the last of the real contenders for the Paddock Tournament, lost to Smith and Dawson, 6½-1½. The big win put Smith and Dawson in fifth place and from the way their sticks are clicking lately the team will be closing in on first place in a few weeks.

Park Ridge Stop and Sock trounced Michaels I.G.A., 6-1. Bert Casteel produced a 38 on the back nine and gave the S and S boys a comfortable margin to work on.

Kirchhoff Insurance, led by John Keeley's sizzling 1-under par 34 romped over the Ehler-Wenborg team, 5½-1½. Victim of the 34 was Dave Borgardt who had a 37 which usually is good enough to win.

In "B" class Fred Hohenhorst got his low score of the season, a 79, to beat par eight up. Hohenhorst shot 38-41: 79 with a 15 handicap. Carl Buehler was second in class "B" shooting 39-44:83 with a 17 handicap to beat par six up. C. M. O'Brien beat par 10 up to win class "C" shooting 41-46:87 with a 28 handicap. O. H. Grosse was second with five up on par with a 48-46: 94 and a 26 handicap.

Saturday the blind bogey winners were Howard Clement, first, and a tie for second between A. J. O'Callahan and Gene Lersch.

Next weekend Palatine's Inverness club will have a "Derby Days" event with teams of two playing a best ball event with full benefit of handicap. The event will be 36 holes with 18 each on Saturday and Sunday. A total of 42 teams are entered.

7 Bunched For Paddock Golf Tourney

"They can't be much closer." That was one observation of standings of St. James Holy Name golf league where 7 teams are bunched within 5 points in the battle for league honors and a berth in forthcoming Paddock tournament.

First place teams of 9 twilight leagues as of August 6 will compete for championship honors in Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournament August 21 at Arlington country club. That August 6 is only 3 weeks away, not too much time for golfers to establish themselves in first place and become eligible for the tourney.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS service station was just a half point ahead of Charles Klehm Nursery in St. James league at Rob Roy country club after last week's competition, J. W. Henney was 1 point farther back, with Rolle King, Murphy Insurance and Erickson Boosters tied for fourth, another point back. Rapp's Big Freeze was then a half point father away.

Individual medals for members of first, second and third place teams have been ordered, as have the dozen golf balls for low, individual net.

Ozark Baseball Camp For Would Be Players

Deep in the Ozark mountains near Salem, Mo., is a baseball camp for boys, devoted exclusively to instruction for boys 10 to 19 years of age. Now in its 14th year under the direction of Carl Bolin, Cincinnati Reds scout and former professional ball player, the camp has just added a series of 2, 1-week tryouts for Cincinnati Reds contracts.

The first tryout week starts July 25 and the second August 15. The tryouts are for boys 23 years of age or under and fun for 5 days of which 2 days is spent in individual instruction. The remaining 3 days will be games with the senior group of the regular camp.

Boys are kept busy in their own age groups on their own diamonds designed in size for the various ages. Mornings are devoted to teaching fundamentals of pitching, are spent in competitive games on ball diamonds. Evenings are usually baseball movies on major league players and games.

Bolin stresses three points necessary to becoming a good ball player: (1) Hard work; (2) Hustle; and (3) Know-How. "Natural ability," he says, "is extremely important to reach the top in baseball, yet it will not substitute for any of the three qualities above. Baseball is a habit game. You can't practice one way and play another. A boy with good coordination willing to practice and live cleanly can become a good fielder. This is not true in throwing and batting. Boys must be born with the ability to throw well."

Information about the camp, the sessions, the Cincinnati tryouts, etc., along with a free booklet on baseball can be had by contacting Carl Bolin, Ozark Baseball Camp, Salem, Mo.

Rougher On Pants

Mickey Mantle is rough on bats. But, says The Sporting News, he's rougher on pants. He recently ripped four pairs in just four games. Another odd item: Les Biederman of the Pittsburgh Press says that the Pirates are leading the league in one department—broken beer bottles in the press box at Forbes Field.

MODERN ETIQUETTE

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Do you think it proper for people to keep their radios or television sets turned on while entertaining guests?

A. If they want their guests to listen to or to view a certain program, it is all right. But to have the set in operation when conversation or a card game is in progress is most distressing to some guests, exceedingly thoughtless and ill-mannered.

Q. What are the two most popular ways of introducing a man and woman?

A. Either "Miss Lake, may I present Mr. Ford?" Or, "Miss Lake, Mr. Ford." Observe that in both forms the woman's name is mentioned first.

Q. Is it good taste for a man to have highly-polished fingernails?

A. There is quite a difference of opinion on this. While many men do, some authorities claim it is not in good taste. Clean, well-kept nails and hands are all that is really necessary.

In the ladies' victory tournament at Rolling Green of 18 holes, low net, Mrs. Tom Phee captured top honors with a 108-34-74 with Miss Delores Box and Mrs. John Skahill 3 strokes off the pace in second place. Miss Box fired 98-21-77 and Mrs. Skahill had a card of 127-50-77. In fourth spot was Mrs. John Taheny with a 123-45-78.

Mike Spinello Qualifies For JC National Tourney

A 20 foot put for a birdie 3 on the 379 yard second hole gave Mt. Prospect's Mike Spinello a playoff victory, fifth place and a trip to Columbus, Georgia for the National finals in the JC golf tourney at Woodridge Tuesday.

Spinello was tied with 3 other players at 149 after the 36 holes and a playoff was necessary to determine which boy would earn the right to enter the national finals. The first 4 finishers in the Woodridge tourney qualify for the Georgia meet, but the champion, Bob Kletcke of Chicago, had already planned to compete in the Hearst National in California so he couldn't make the trip, August 15-20.

In the playoff for fifth place Spinello and Olson both parred the first hole, Bollis dropping out with a bogey. Then on the second hole Spinello dropped his 20 foot put for the birdie 3.

Mike was individual medalist in the West Suburban golf meet with a 75 as the Arlington Heights golf team captured team honors with 307, 1 stroke better than second place Glenbard.

State & Rand Leads Old Orchard Scratch

In the Old Orchard Scratch League, State and Rand Service team took over first place when Len Arnold pumped together an even par 36 to beat Bert Casteel over Old Orchard's back nine. Of course, Len Arnold had the assistance of W. Haake, B. Waara and J. Matyas in their almost clean sweep of the Kamps Sign Company team. The only amount they spilled and allowed the painters was ½ point picked up by Avery Harris on a halved match.

When the smoke of battle drifted off the front nine the match between Smith & Dawson and L-Nor Cleaners' team was stilled with a split decision—3 points each. Highlight of this team match was a halve between Otto Andersen and Dan Musser, when each player matched par 35. An assist for Smith & Dawson's team was Carl Berlin's fine 37.

Bob Blessing came in with a fine jeweled score of 35 for the par 36 back nine. He clicked for 2 birdies, 6 pars and 1 bogey to help the Flaherty Jeweler team make 3 points.

WEBBER PAINT Company pulled the spill of the night when they brushed 5 points away from the Syewart Floor & Tile team. The painters had quite a time but couldn't subdue the new bridegroom, Stewart Jr., and allowed he earned the point the floor finishers took.

Prizes for the short hole special event were donated by Cumberland Fairways, Elston Stop and Sock, Park Ridge Stop and Sock and Old Orchard golf course.

Winners on No. 4 hole were — Dan Musser, Fred Steinken, R. Hubbs, Carl Berlin and H. Kamps. Winners on No. 12 hole were E. Spacapan, E. Doyle, J. Keeley and M. Winkelman.

Finds Man In Munich Who Hasn't Slept A Wink Since War 11 Years Ago

by BILL DILLINGHAM

He's had no sleep in eleven years, and he still isn't tired!

A citizen of Munich, Germany (Mr. Oscar Einfach) has long ago broken all records for staying awake. Since 1944 when he was pulled from the ruins of his house after an allied bombing, he hasn't slept a single wink!

More than one eminent physician has investigated the case and come to the conclusion that the patient, a gentleman of 54 years, remains fully awake during all twenty-four hours of each day. Moreover, there do not appear to be any damaging consequences to this unusual state. No sensation of tiredness is felt, no loss of brain alertness, and no muscular failures revealed. So far, there is reason to suppose that he will live his life unmolested by this phenomena.

INSIDE OF Mr. Einfach's house there are three things which visitors usually are not permitted to overlook. There is no bedroom, and there are two glass cases which contain a pair of pajamas and an old alarm clock. Mr. Einfach explains that these are souvenirs of "the good old days."

When questioned, however, this unusual person seems quite content with his strange state of body. He tells curious observers that his life in now guaranteed thirty per cent longer.

LACKING NATURE'S mechanism that informs a man when he must relax, Mr. Einfach has been warned by several physicians that he should rest awhile each day. From two until four every morning this Munich citizen lies down on his couch and does his best to remain motionless.

This little ritual of lying down for two hours every morning, says Mr. Einfach, is one of the few things that keeps him feeling like he is part of the human social cycle.

MOST OTHER tasks and social experiences are somehow affected by this sleeplessness. He doesn't eat his three meals at the usual hours, but prefers to space his meals with eight hours between each. Furthermore, he doesn't find it desirable any longer to distinguish between his meals as to quantity and type. He no longer recognizes the old institution of breakfast. He is prepared to eat ice cream or a steak "at breakfast time" or to have cereal for "supper."

The only physical disadvantage to his inability to sleep, explains Mr. Einfach, is his extreme sensitivity to nervous disorders. Life must be tranquil, lacking in confusion and social relationships must be in good order. The fact that sleep permits the soothing and repairing of the mind and body, it becomes especially important when one's enviornment is not quiet. He says that the best nerve tonic he has yet found when he begins to feel iritated is a good cigar. (Bill

Q. If a woman employee in a business office is on friendly enough relations with her employer, or with another male employee of the office, to call him by his first name, is it proper for her to do this within the hearing of any visitors to the office?

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

Mercury has just issued what we consider to be one of the finest discs ever offered the music lover. It has not only all the desired elements of high fidelity (indeed, it's a perfect test disc for your home hi-fi system), but also some of the most beautiful music ever written, plus magnificently attractive album packaging for the place of honor on your shelves it merits.

We refer to the complete ballet, "Daphnis et Chloe," written by Maurice Ravel in 1912 to the commission of the great entrepreneur Serge Diaghilev, and performed with a stunning brilliance and sensitivity by the Minneapolis Symphony under Antal Dorati and the Macalester college choir of St. Paul singing that haunting wordless chorus which Ravel uses to such telling effect throughout the work.

FROM EPIC, an equally exciting disc devoted to the little-known music of another French master, Albert Roussel. (If you're not familiar with his music, try also Mercury's The Spider's Feast" and Victor's "Bacchus et Ariane," two beautiful works given outstanding performance and reproduction.) He has the elegance and wit of Ravel, plus a flair for rhythm which makes this disc an exciting adventure. Included are his charming "Petite Suite" with its zestful finale, the Piano Concerto (music of great originality and power), the Sinfonietta for Strings and the Concerto for Small Orchestra. Paul Sacher conducts the concerts Lamoureux orchestra admirably. Fine, clean sound!

'The Country Girl' At Woodstock Opera House

"A stage script and a movie script are never identical because living theatre and the cinema are two distinctly different art forms." This is a statement made by director John H. Fritz at the Woodstock Opera House concerning his forthcoming production "The Country Girl," July 15, 16 and 17, and the comment that this show has recently appeared in movie form. The question arises as to which medium of entertainment is most successful in presenting the story —the stage or the screen.

"It's hard to compare the movie to the play," Mr. Fritz said, "because the stories are so different The basic plots are similar, but the script was altered considerably for the screen version in order to take full advantage of motion picture technique, However, the script is a theatre script, and the author intended it to be presented live. It is unfair to compare the two versions, but I'll admit I'm biased. "Country Girl" is a real fine play. Hollywood tampered with it, and I can't help being on theatre's side!

'No' To Sales Tax

Home Upkeep Is Big Business

The nation's 50 million owners of dwelling units need to spend at least $12 billion each year to keep their home plants in good condition. This is equal to the total amount being spent each year for one million new homes.

Fritz Burns, nationally known Los Angeles builder, warns that at least 35 million of these homes are in need of repair, and some have felt their first touch of blight. He estimates eight million homes dwellings.

Without constant repair and maintenance he said the nation's $220 billion investment in homes is in jeopardy.

Most homes, being built of lumber, are easily repaired. Such popular and inexpensive softwoods as Douglas fir and west coast hemlock can be found in any retail lumber yard in the country.

Second prize ($75) in the Palatine Centennial parade was awarded the Palatine Enterprise. The display centered around a Washington Hand Press, loaned to the publication firm by Newberry Library, date unknown, but similar to one upon which the Palatine Enterprise was printed in 1899. Ben Franklin used a press of the same design in 1763. Seated at the desk is Editor Kenneth Osbon; Roy Reuter is operating the press. The two printer's devils are Bob Paddock Jr. and Robert Schoepke.

Seated at the rear are six members of the fourth generation of Paddock newspaper family, all girls.. A facsimilie of the first page of the Centennial edition was enlarged four times normal size. The motto of the founder of the paper, the late H. C. Paddock, appeared on the side of the float and read: "Our Motto: Fear God, Tell the Truth and Make Money." —Staff Photo

Barbara Jean Campbell is the young lady in the sightseeing car. Passengers in the caboose are Peggy Walsh and Kathleen Landwehr. The conductor is Butch Schmidt. News Of Rolling Meadows

Reunion Successful

The community barn in Rolling Meadows was certainly filled with fond memories and reminiscenses of that Chicago high school located at 3030 N. Mobile 2 weeks ago. June 3, a group of ex-students of Steinmetz high school, who now live in the various northwest communities around Rolling Meadows, gathered at the barn for a general get-together and "gab fest." In spite of the heat of the evening, the turn-out was extremely good. It was hard to tell later in the evening, however, whether the talk sessions or the delicious cake provided by several of the women was the highlight of the reunion. Thanks for the cakes should go to Julia Reynolds, Ruth Dierkes, Shirley Roeing, Barbara Larson, Lucille Doyle and Helen Bristol of Rolling Meadows, and to Carole Wendt of Arlington Heights. Special appreciation of the group should go to Jean Bennett, Shirley Roeing and Barbara Larson who took all of the telephone calls for the gathering. Rolling Meadows Alderman Dick Roeing was the "Man Friday" for the affair, setting up all of the tables and chairs in addition to making the surprisingly good coffee. The group was pleased to find Walter Herrick, assistant principal of Steinmetz, on hand for the gathering as well as Mrs. Harry Fausel of Arlington Heights, the well-loved German teacher of the school.

As promised the group that evening, here is a list of names of those present. Possibly some of you other Steinmetz graduates in the area will recognize some of the names, too. Rolling Meadows — Lucille (Shill) Doyle, Polly (Lynest) Larson, Janet (Pack) Hollatz, Marilyn (Olson) Pallas, Julie Reynolds, Betty Lou (Larson) Wolod, Mary J. Bennett, Robert Paulsen, Phyllis Gokey LaRock, Ruth (Johnson) Dierkes, Elayne (Carlson) Manago, Dick and Shirley (Walsh) Roeing, Doris (Wagner) Zaccard, Kay Young and Helen (Patterson) Bristol; Arlington Heights—Joslyn (Bern) Anderson, Paul and Nancy Breitsprecher, David and Pat Breitsprecher, Jim and Mary Lou Lasworth, Carole (Michel) Wendt, Edna (Gustafson) Rongner, Helen and Warren Petersen, Robert Maley, Ethel (Anderson) Ward, and Albert Anderson; Mount Prospect — Shirley (Waldo) Lathrop, Marilyn and Ken Guetlich, Carole (Thompson) Hauslein, Caryl (Wiegman) Robinson, Florence (Kotells) Richardson, and Dolores (Miller) Creighton; Palatine—Phyllis (Sobanski) Rieck and Helen (Tempenar) Planz.

The final thought of many of the ex-classmates was the wish to "do it again soon." The group from Rolling Meadows hopes to posibly repeat the reunion next fall—minus the heat and the mosquitos.

Farewell Party

In an effort to let Ann and Bob (Jake) Jacobson know in a small way just how much they will be missed, their Wilke rd. neighbors held a farewell party for the popular couple last Saturday night. The Jacobsons have recently sold their Rolling Meadows home at 2901 Wilke rd. as Jake is momentarily expecting an overseas assignment from the navy. The farewell party was held at the home, garage and yard of Arlene and Bob Pina of 2811 Wilke rd. On hand for the festivities were Pete and Eleanor Keller, Chuck Martin, and Jackie and Danny Hale, all of Wilke rd. The memories of the happy party were still fresh when Ann and the children left Tuesday for California where they will stay with her parents until Jake has completed his tour of duty.

Camping

There are 3 Rolling Meadows boy scouts who are putting their woodcraft and Indian lore training to good use this summer. Ken Keller, Willie Klouthis and Henry Seestadt are all at Boy scout Camp Napowan, near Wild Rose, Wis., for a two week period. These 3 are the first boys from the local troop to attend the district camp, and their parents and leaders are sure they will prove to be excellent representativs from Troop 68 of Rolling Meadows.

Sympathy

Her Rolling Meadows friends have expressed their sincere sympathy to Helene Kaseska of 2203 Campbell st. on the death of her father, Robert Ramig Sr. of Chicago. As an expression of their high regard for Helene and of their sympathy to her family a group of her Campbell st. neighbors sent a floral arrangement for the funeral. The great loss felt by the Kaseska children, Vicki and Julie, over the death of their grandfather has been relieved somewhat by the visit of their grandmother, Mrs. Ramig. Mrs. Ramig will be staying with her daughter and her family for a while, and the family and neighbors are pleased to welcome her to Rolling Meadows where they hope she will soon find happiness again.

Sitters Needed

The successful baby-sitting service developed in the community by Mrs. Marge Hansen of 2317 Bluebird lane is in need of a few more sitters, particularly for weekend work. If you would like to try baby-sitting in Rolling Meadows for a little extra money, or if you are looking for a sitter yourself, why not call Mrs. Hansen.

Softball League

A double header was the feature of the Rolling Meadows Softball league this past week. The teams from Wing st. and Bluebird lane split the double bill last Sunday in 2 hotly contested games. The first game was won by Bluebird lane with a score of 16 to 8, while the second game was taken by Wing st. with 9 runs against only 2 for Bluebird lane. Back in action after his sprained ankle earlier in the season was Bluebird lane's star Mike Garrity. Highlights of the 2 games were the home runs hit by Joe Stapleton in the first game and Mike Medley in the second.

League standings for this week are:

	Won	Lost
Sigwalt St.	4	1
Wing St.	3	3
Campbell St.	2	2
Bluebird St.	2	2
South St.	1	4

Games are played at the Arlington high school field Wednesday evenings and Sunday mornings. If you would like to see really good softball games, played with a maximum of enthusiasm and slightly "aging" skill why not turn out to watch the teams.

Welcome World

The happy glow in the vicinity of 2102 Park st. is for a good cause. It's a brand new baby girl, the first child, for Karin and David Radeke. The pretty little miss, Holly Christine, became a member of the Radeke family June 29. The arrival point for Holly Christine was St. Elizabeth hospital, Chicago, where she tipped the scales at 7 pounds 2 ounces.

Charles Anger of 2107 Flicker lane is really a happy new father —so happy in fact he is spending his vacation getting acquainted with the newest addition to the Anger family. She is little Mary Margaret, the fourth child of Evelyn and Charles Anger. The young lady really had her start in life as a future WAVE since she arrived at Great Lakes Naval hospital. June 4 was the arrival date for Mary Margaret, and after only one month of life the Anger family is still busy getting acquainted with the new princess of the household. Donna Marie, 6, Charles Jr., 3½, and Steven, 2, are busy telling their many new friends and playmates about the important new arrival in the family.

Lutheran Church News

Midlothian Motorcade

Twelve families of the Lutheran church in Rolling Meadows were represented in the 4 carloads of church members which made the long trip to Midlothian last week to visit the Lutheran church there. Although the trip to Midlothian, which is south of South Chicago, took more than an hour each way, the group felt it was well worth while. The church in that city had been erected as a "mission church" as a basic beginning for the growth of that parish, and the building and plans used by that group would appear to be appropriate for Rolling Meadows as well. The church building is a long ranch type building which could be converted to a home or parsonage later when a regular church building was erected. The group was enthusiastic over their findings in Midlothian and feel it is a good beginning point for the building plans of the Rolling Meadows church.

Lutheran Ladies

The busy telephones and active planning groups of the members of the Lutheran Ladies group are probably completely taken up with the potluck supper which the group is planning for the end of July. While plans are still in the preliminary stages it is hoped a good turnout of church members and friends will be had.

Visitors

Pana, Ill., is the home town of the 4th of July visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Medley of 2303 Wing st. Enjoying the holiday festivities at the Medley home were Mike's brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Medley and their children, Marion, 16, and Michael, 9 months, who is Mike Medley's namesake. The Medleys were also joined by their sons and their families for the holidays—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Medley and their daughter, Cherrie, of Lake Zurich and Mr. and Mrs. George Medley and their sons, Michael and Terry, of Des Plaines.

That pleasant young lady seen in the vicinity of St. James st. this past week was Jeanne Lou Zocchi of Rockford. Jeanne Lou is the 12 year old niece of Betty and Jim Stover of 2802 St. James st., and spent the week visiting her aunt and uncle in their Rolling Meadows home. In spite of the record hot spell of that particular week, little Jimmy Stover, who is 3 years old, really enjoyed having his cousin visiting him and kept Jeanne Lou really on the go keeping up with him.

The home of Bob and Barbara Bridenhagen at 2406 School dr. has been overflowing with visitors recently. To the complete delight of Bob and Barbara and particularly their children, Mary Beth, who is almost 3, and Lynn, one, Barbara's mother, Mrs. Wells of Green Bay, spent a week with the family. The weekend was further highlighted with a visit to the Bridenhagen home by friends from Toledo. Guests were Bob and Jackie Rousseau and their 2 children, Barbara and Ruth.

The 4th of July was really an exciting holiday for David, Debbie and Beverly Douglas of 2307 School dr. The 3 children of Jeannette and Doug Douglas had the unusual treat of having their grandparents and uncle spend the important day with them. Doug's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Douglas, and his brother, Charles Douglas Jr., came to Rolling Meadows for the holiday weekend from their home in West Richfield Ohio.

The guests visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Feirick of 2306 Kirchhoff rd., came from scattered parts of the country. Mr. and Mrs. William Brackman visited in Rolling Meadows from their home in Fairbury, Ill. Also visiting was Miss Florence Slobe of Chicago. Hartford, Conn., is the home town of another guest of the Feirick family, LaVerne LaGoies.

Last weekend really proved to be an exciting one for little Ann and Peter Gelderman of 2310 Bluebird lane. Ann, 2, and Peter, 1, had their grandparents and their uncle visiting them in Rolling Meadows. Ann and Peter are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gelderman. Mrs. Gelderman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Miller, spent last weekend with their daughter and her family, traveling all the way from their home in Rushford, Minn. With her parents for their visit was Mrs. Gelderman's brother, Peter, who is vacationing from his college studies for the summer.

Christening

July 3, was the christening day for little David Thomas Pina, the young son of Bob and Arlene Pina of 2811 Wilke rd. The christening was held at Our Lady of the Wayside church at Arlington Heights with Father O'Hara officiating. Acting as godparents for the little boy were George and Rosemary Bohn of Chicago. Following the baptism ceremony the Pinas held a party in honor of their young son. In addition to the godparents, the baby's great grandmother Pina and his grandparents were on hand for the celebration, as well as many other friends and relatives. Probably the proudest celebrant was the baby's older brother, Robert Pina Jr.

Little League News

The important Mom's day doubleheader scheduled for July 31 has been postponed until Sunday, August 7. This action was taken by the Little League organization since the Rolling Meadows league has been ruled eligible to participate in the Little League tournament play. This means that the Rolling Meadows Little League boys have a possible chance of participating in the Little League "World Series" in Williamsport, Penn., if they are successful in the tournament. The Little League organization has started to pick members of the all-star team which will participate in the tournament. Selections are restricted to boys 10, 11 and 12 years of age, and boys are being chosen strictly on the basis of their playing skill. Selections are made by secret ballot by the coaches and managers of all teams. Tournament games will start on or about July 28. The entire league is anxious that the best possible team represent Rolling Meadows as just participating in the tournament play is a great honor, and it would really be an honor to the community if the boys were even partially successful in their bid for a chance to participate in the "world series." Due to the heavy rain last Saturday many of the Minor League boys were not able to pick up their shirts and caps which were to have been distributed during the Saturday morning practice session. Boys who do not as yet have their uniforms are reminded that the remaining shirts and caps will be distributed this Saturday at the 10 a. m. practice session.

Parade

The entire boys' baseball group from Rolling Meadows participated in the Centennial Parade in Palatine last Sunday. Members of the Pony League, Little League and Minor League all proudly wore their clean and sparkling new uniforms and almost wore out their arms waving to everyone. The brightly polished new red trucks of Kimball Hill & associates, which transported the boys for the parade, really served as an appropriate background for the white of the baseball uniforms. The Little League organization is grateful to Kimball Hill and his organization for providing not only trucks, but the drivers as well. The boys themselves showed excellent cooperation by their turnout in full uniform and they made both their parents and their Little League supervisors proud of them as they behaved like real "big leaguers" during the entire parade. Probably the local residents and the boys themselves enjoyed the impromptu Rolling Meadows parade held by the group upon their return from Palatine even more than the original parade. The caravan of cars and trucks carrying the Little Leaguers and their adult supervisors cruised throughout the entire subdivision.

Recuperating

Doing very well recuperating at home is Priscilla Murphy of 2205 Wilke rd. Priscilla underwent surgery at St. Francis hospital in Evanston June 18, and after several weeks in the hospital is now at home. Her many friends and neighbors are glad to have her back at home. The Murphy home is really Rolling Meadows "first" home, being located at the farthest northeast corner of the subdivision and is the first Rolling Meadows home seen by many people arriving in the area.

St. James st. residents are glad to have 2 of their neighbors recovering from recent sick periods. Mrs. Alice Gorman of 2803 St. James st. was confined to her bed for more than a week and is now able to be up and around again. Mrs. Marion Marten of 2807 St. James st. was in the hospital for a brief period but is now at home and almost completely recuperated.

Possibly the happiest couple in Rolling Meadows this past weekend were Sara and Fred Holthe of 2309 Wilke rd. Mr. and Mrs. Holthe brought their 2½ month old son, David Louis, home from the hospital for the first time July 9. The baby who has suffered with a serious heart condition since his birth has been in Michael Reese hospital, undergoing various tests and under oxygen. His build-up of strength to his present condition is considered almost miraculous, and his parents are understandably thrilled at having him home. The baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Schultz and Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Holthe are also pleased to have their tiny grandson at home with his family. Unfortunately, following a period devoted to building up his strength, David Louis must return to the hospital for a necessary operation.

Community Church News

Pot Luck Supper

The potluck supper held at the church last Saturday for all members and all newcomers in units 6 and 7 was greatly enjoyed by everyone on hand for the occasion. As usual, the women of Rolling Meadows again proved their talents as excellent cooks as the food was absolutely delicious. About 100 people were on hand for the supper. Following the meal many of the men enjoyed a game of volleyball. The group was also entertained by a showing of "Tall In The Saddle" a movie featuring John Wayne. The movie was held outdoors which proved to be successful, particularly after a hot day. The cool evening air was enjoyed so much that it was decided to hold all of the Saturday evening movies outdoors, depending upon the weather, of course, and the showing time will be postponed until dusk.

Saturday Movie

The movie for this Saturday is "Mother Carey's Chickens" and showings will be held at 2:30 p. m. and at dusk since the evening movie will be held outdoors.

Future Potluck Suppers

The potluck suppers held at the barn to date have always proven to be so enjoyable and such a complete success plans have been made to hold a potluck supper every second and fourth Saturday night for the remainder of the summer. The next supper will be held July 23 and will be open to everyone in the community. It is hoped church members and their friends and neighbors will take advantage of these enjoyable gatherings.

Recreation

Everyone in the community is invited to the barn every evening for the remainder of the summer. There will be volleyball, horseshoes, darts, and other forms of recreation available for everyone interested. Remember, you don't have to be a church member to take advantage of the recreation opportunities offered at the barn. Why don't you work up a good volleyball game with your neighbors. You'd be surprised at the fun you can have.

Parties

An Independence day celebration was the theme of the gathering held at the home of Arlene and Bob Pina July 4th. The happy celebration at 2811 Wilke rd. was enthusiastically joined by many of their Rolling Meadows friends. On hand for the holiday festivities were Bob and Ann Jacobson, Jackie and Dan Hale, Julie and Bob Reynolds and Pat and Shirley Adducci, all of Wilke rd., Shirley and Don Lewan and Betty Lou and Ed Wolod, of South st., and Bill and Shirley Flannigan of Dove st.

July 1, was the date of a party held at the home of Norman and Ruth Dierkes of 2301 Wilke rd. On that day Norman and Ruth stood up for the wedding of their friends, Madge Aubert and Jake Hartwig, who were married in Woodstock. Following the wedding, Norman and Ruth held a small reception in their home in honor of the happy event. Some of the guests were Mrs. Gus Johnson, George and Retta Johnson, Vic and Muriel Schrock and their children, Michael and Valerie, and Priscilla and Dan Murphy. Also attending was Grandmother Dierkes, who lives with Norman and Ruth in Rolling Meadows.

It was a jewelry demonstration which brought many of her friends and neighbors to the home of Sheila Abraham at 2302 Park st. last week. Co-hostess for the evening was Betty Seelbach of 2306 Park st. The group of women enjoying the evening included Dorothy Sully, Elly Hildebrand, Mary Stoltman, Joanne Hayes, Terry Crawford, Peg Maher, Nancy Obermeyer, Ann Krajci, and Sue Sheets, all of Rolling Meadows, and Judy Zarenski of Virginia Terrace.

Another jewelry demonstration was held in Rolling Meadows June 29. Donna Anderson of 2101 Swan lane invited her new neighbors from Swan lane and Fremont st. to her home that evening for the demonstration in order to gather the women together.

Parties

A neighborhood picnic was held last Sunday by a group of friends from Park st. The pleasant outing was held at Deer Haven near Fox Lake. Participating in the outdoor party were Joanne and Bob Hayes and their son, Bobby, 6; Mary and Harold Stoltman and their sons, Tommy, 8, Bobby, 5, and Joey, 11 months; Betty and Bob Seelbach and their sons, Tommy, 1½, and Bobby, 4; and Sheila and Bill Abraham and their children, Jerry, 4, Maggie, 2, and Nancy, 11 months.

Girl Scouts - Brownies

The girl scout organization has issued an urgent call for more volunteers this fall. With the rapid growth of the size and number of girl scout and brownie troops in the city it is imperative that additional adult supervisors be recruited. Women are particularly needed for troop leaders, but volunteers are also needed for troop committee work. If you would like to give a portion of your time to this important character-building activity for girls won't you call Irene Sharples, Neighborhood council chairman. Her telephone number is Clearbrook 3-8368.

Vacationing

The fulfillment of a promise made to her mother just before her death last year has been made by Dorothy Wirth's father, John Bryant of Chicago. Dorothy's mother sincerely wanted her daughter and her family to take a trip to the family hometown of Baltimore, Md., to see the spots so dear to her and her husband and to meet the many members of the family she had never seen. Dorothy and Bob Wirth, of 2511 George st., accompanied by their children, Sheryl, 9½, and Kathy, 4, with Dorothy's father, just returned from their "memory" trip — a trip which proved to be the most enjoyable one ever taken by the family. The group was gone for 2 weeks, and the first stop on their tour was a visit to the children's great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Fry in Akron, Ohio. After a brief stay in Akron, the family went on to Baltimore where they visited Dorothy's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilson. Mrs. Wilson is her mother's only living sister. While in Baltimore Dorothy's father showed the family the spot where she had been born, the Catholic school where her mother had been raised, the church where her parents were married, and the church where Dorothy, as a baby, had been baptized. After their Baltimore stay the group took a trip over the Blue Ridge mountains, stopping at the Luray Caverns, then over the Skyline Drive on to Roanoke, Virginia. In Roanoke the group visited Mill Mountain, which overlooks the entire area, and which afforded a beautiful playground and zoo for the children to enjoy. Flat Top Mountain in Jennings Creek, Va., was the next stop for the family. There they visited the graves of Dorothy's great grandparents at the top of the mountain, in a spot accessible only by foot. The outstanding "memory vacation" was completed with the trip back over the new West Virginia Turnpike, an exciting closing for the unusual trip.

Everything is more fun when done with company, and based on that philosophy Gil Blanco and his neighbor, Chuck McNerney, of George court, took their vacation periods at the same time. Gil and his wife, Zella, and their children, Judy and Ricky, spent several enjoyable day trips with Chuck and his wife, Vesla, and their children, Brock and Shayne. One of the outstanding outings was a trip to Brookfield Zoo, which was also enjoyed by Pat Hoffman and her 4 children, Carol, Richard, Mary and Johnny. Another enjoyable day was spent at Waukegan state park where the 2 families were joined by Ron and Sis Perry and their children, Keith and Kevin.

Iron Mountain, Mich., was the pleasant destination for Dorothy and Ed Kotlarz of Campbell st. on their recent vacation trip. Dorothy and Ed, accompanied by their children, Richard, Kenny and Diane, made the trip to the famous vacation city to pick up Dorothy's father, Emanuel Johnson, who returned to Rolling Meadows with the family. Mr. Johnson will visit the Kotlarz family here for a while, and the Kotlarz children are eagerly hoping their grandfather will make the change a permanent one.

An enjoyable vacation in the cool area of northern Minnesota was the wise choice of Bill and Louise Klouthis and their friends, Millie and Bob Gathman, all of Wilke rd. The 2 families returned from their vacation trip July 8. Also enjoying the delightful northern Minnesota country were Willie Klouthis, 14, and little Gary Gathman, 4, who accompanied their parents on the vacation trip.

Ginny Bickett of 2410 Wing st., with her 3-year-old son, Greg has just returned from a delightful vacation spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hood of Sparta, Ill. Ginny and Greg also spent a week in Jacksonville and Daytona Beach, Fla. Upon their return to Sparta, they were joined by her husband, John. John and Ginny and little Greg then visited John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bickett Sr., who also live in Sparta.

Joe and Lorie Stapleton of 2312 Wing st. spent an enjoyable vacation period at the Wisconsin Dells recently. The trip was highlighted for Joe and Lorie by a trip to the "wonder spot" where gravity seems to have been forgotten. You even walk on your side the Stapletons swear. The Stapletons celebrated their return from their vacation with a barbecue in their yard. Joining in the outdoor meal were John and Shirley Northcote, and John and Lue Doyle of Rolling Meadows, Shirley and Scott Johnson of Meadowdale, Bud and Rose Taff and their daughter, Patty, of Lyons, and Joe Stapleton's mother, Mrs. John Stapleton, of Chicago. The highlight of the day was a rousing croquette game which the women proudly assert they won.

The historic city of Springfield was the weekend vacation spot for Jack and Lois Savage and their children, David and Patty. The Savage family of 2710 Sigwalt st. spent last weekend with Jack's sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. E. Leigh.

The pleasant Fourth of July holiday weekend was spent by Sara and Fred Holthe at Sturgeon Bay, Wis. Busy Mayor

People envious of the job as major of the city might well look at the busy calendar of John Northcote, Rolling Meadows new mayor, which leaves him little time to enjoy his home and his family. Also enjoying the ball were a group of other Rolling Meadows resident including Gretchen and Bi White, Pete and Eleanor Keller, Tommy and Doris Tatar, Svea and Al Garms, Tony and Elayne Manago, Eda Zimmerman, and Bob and Helene Bristol. Wednesday evening, the mayor conducted a special council meeting. Thursday the mayor, accompanied by his wife, Shirley, and his children, Linda and Johnny, traveled to Springfield to see the governor on necessary city business. Sunday the mayor represented the city by acting as a judge at the Palatine Centennial Parade and Monday he was represented at the installation of the 500,000th gas meter here in Rolling Meadows. Tuesday evening, another council meeting was held—and so it goes.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The fact that God's man is endowed with unquenchable strength and power will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, July 17, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (215:12): "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and Life."

The life-giving power of God is also set forth in passages from the Bible including the following (Psalms 27:1, 4): "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? . . . One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple."

Plans for the future of the Lutheran church in Rolling Meadows are rapidly developing. The trip of July 6 to Midlothian proved to be successful. Four carloads of people went there to see the church that the Mission Board of the Missouri Synod recommends. It is a functional ranch style church with a full basement and a seating capacity of at least 125. It can be reconverted into a home when a permanent church is erected.

A member of congregational meetings have been held. The purpose of the first meeting Tuesday evening was to decide whether or not the congregation wished to go through with the plans of the building committee. The second was to meet with Kimball Hill and plan our future with him and the community of Rolling Meadows. This meeting was held Wednesday evening.

These business meetings were extra and of utmost importance However, the regular congregational business meeting will be held tonight, Thursday at 8 o'clock in the school. The main business on hand will be the ratifying of the constitution.

The regular Sunday school teachers' meeting will be held Monday at 8 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stutz, who live on Warren ave. in Palatine.

Last week the Sunday school enrolled 2 new students. They were Susan and Beverly Johnston of 2114 Kirchoff road. We welcome them into our midst. We also welcome the visitors who have been with us the last few Sundays.

We wonder what there is about a carnival or Kiddieland that makes our young so very unhappy. Every once in a while we break down and decide to give them a great big treat by taking them to one of these places of fun and frolic.

They clap their pink and mud colored paddies at the prospect of so much joy and on the trip going are so grateful to parent. The trip home is one of snarling and dissatisfaction. Once at the amusement place, we smilingly dole out the money and tell them to go on their own until the wherewithal is gone. With cries of pure ecstasy they gallop off to the ride of their fancy.

The youngest gravitates slowly but surely to the merry-go-round, mounts a likely looking steed, and grins gaily each circuit. But, does she tell us when she gets off how much fun it was? She does not. Her first words to us as we lift her down from Silver are, "Now what shall I ride?" As she is pretty much afraid of anything that goes fast, upside down, or with a rolling motion, we inevitably end back at t_ merry-go-round. And here she stays.

The older ones are more for the rides that go fast, upside down, and with a rolling motion all at the same time. If their respective insides have had a good jostling, their hearts have made a quick trip to their throats, and they have been sure that they were about to be dashed to destruction, the ride is declared to be a mild success.

After several rides on several mild successes, they become slightly querulous and want new fields of endeavor. Outside of suggesting a quick trip to the airport, chartering a plane, and making a jump from it, with or without a parachute, we are at a loss to suggest anything except cotton candy.

Cotton candy is wonderful stuff. It is nothing, spun to look like something, and ends up as nothing again. Very disappointing stuff and very bilious looking. We then run the gamut of hamburgers, popcorn, chances on the punchboards, and then, as we are looking forward to getting in the car, the whole thing starts over again.

Baby is sure that another ride on the horses is all she needs to bring the old smiles back and older ones remember how much fun it is to have every bone in the old body straining to get out of its socket. So soft headed mother doles out some more money. And does this send them home happy? Nope, they bawl all the way home or complain bitterly about the injustice of having to leave just when the fun was starting.

The best form of retaliation we can think of is for them all to have lots of children who want to go to the carnivals all the time. That'll fix them good.

The Mailman's Corner

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

I do not know whether there has been as great a change in the attitude of the younger generation toward elderly people in other parts of the world as in the United States, but in America it has changed greatly.

Young men and women are champing at the bit, anxious to get ahead in their work. Older employees generally stand in their way, a frustrating experience for youth. They are impatient with us. "Why don't you retire?" they ask. And the push out has been tremendous.

THE PRESENT youthful generation has little veneration for age. Parents and dependent relatives are a responsibility which most young people will not gladly assume. Their advice is seldom sought, their rich store of knowledge of human nature often ignored, their experience in business and life cast aside.

We oldsters often complain about this; yet of what use is a knowledge of horses to a farm lad who will use a tractor for tilling the soil? What can a bookkeeper advise his son or daughter who now punches a key while a machine does the bookkeeping or accounting which it took him days to do, in the wink of an eye? What can you tell your children about saving for a rainy day when they know they can depend on sickness, accident, hospitalization, unemployment insurance and a pension when they are old? Or how combat the American custom of discarding old things and replacing them with new?

SOME TIME AGO, I wrote in this column about the waste in experience and knowledge of discarding elderly people. That started me to thinking, and I realize now that that article was based on emotion rather than fact. Much of the experience and knowledge which was valuable a generation ago is worthless today.

It simply does not apply to this generation as much of the experience and knowledge of the new generation will not apply to the next. Such as does will be a matter of record, filed in a machine, and it is much simpler and more accurate to punch a key and learn what you want to know than to try to get it from an older employee.

IN OLDSTERS, only the exceptional mind is of value, the mind that can still venture into new fields, is still courageous, capable of changing with the times, capable of adapting to new discoveries, new moral concepts, new customs in industry and life. Only a pitifully few having reached the age of 65, can compete efficiently today. We are in a youthful age, venturing into new fields, As on the battlefield, the older man is of little worth because of his physical infirmities, his conservative, cautious attitude toward life, so it is in our new, vibrant, changing nation today.

One of the lessons we oldsters should learn from life is to accept the inevitable. Another is that spiritual life is more important that material. As we grow older we are nearing an inescapable end of earthly existence. What was, is past. We must look toward the future that awaits us on the other side of conscious physical life. We can look toward that future with joy and eager anticipation, can venture into new fields of knowledge and spiritual growth.

Arlington Budget

Mr. Buechner, Arlington Heights village manager, spent over 100 hours of his own time—nights and Sundays—preparing an appropriation budget for the fiscal year, which, if adopted, would have meant a reduction in taxes per taxpayer. However, 3 members of the board with president Goedke casting the deciding vote adopted an appropriation budget approximately $133,000 more than the village manager recommended.

You may recall one of the "Your Neighbor" letters in the recent election campaign: "One thing you've got to give the incumbent trustees credit for. When they spend money, by George, they really go all out."

Incidentally, I am happy to see that the new members of the board in transferring funds from the water department to the general fund have found this to be a sound and logical accounting procedure instead of an "infamous act." It is interesting to observe that this amount has mushroomed from $12,754 in 1954 to $17,776 in the current budget.

Ready Mix Solution

Stuart Paddock has asked the people of Arlington Heights to suggest how to get more parking space. The Board Members think the way is to buy commercial property at $400 per foot. Quite an expensive deal. They are allowing commercial property in the 200 to 400 block on West Northwest Highway to depreciate. According to an outside appraiser, this property is not worth $200 a foot, due to the Ready Mix Plant, and will depreciate more as time goes on, eventually into a slum area.

(1) So, why not kill two birds with one stone? Buy land for the Arlington Elevator Company in an Industrial area, and move them there.

(2) Have parking from Vail to Euclid ave. for commuters on Northwestern Railroad. This will allow for six blocks of parking.

(3) Widen all narrow streets surrounding the downtown area.

(4) MAKE STRICT enforcements on all new commercial buildings to furnish at least 70 per cent of their own parking needs.

This is what other cities have done. Why can't we?

I like Arlington Heights even though my business is for the most part out of town, and I have been annoyed by the intense noise and cement dust the past two years.

Instead of the city being sued for a nuisance, which the Ready Mix is, causing property depreciation for over $150,000, why not do as a placard on a Palatine centennial truck read: "Out with the old—in with the new."

* * *

WE THE CEMENT dust eaters will help the City eliminate the nuisance if you people will call your Trustee Board Members about this parking idea and voice your opinion. Their names are:

Love Your Children

So often you see these signs "Drive Slowly—We Love Our Children." Just how much do you love your children? Do you love them enough to warn them about the dangers on the highway. So often I see children riding their bikes on the road without watching where they're going or if anyone else is coming.

I went through town one evening and a girl about 6 years of age, who was very unsteady on her bike, came down the left-hand side of the road. I was on the thru street and doing 20 mph in a 25 mph zone. She kept coming and evidently wanted to cross but when she saw me coming she tried to turn so I stopped. She wobbled and then fell beside my car.

I understand that all cyclists are to follow the same laws as the motorists. Parents—warn your children and teach them the laws of the roads!

Impatient Driver

To the very impatient man in the blue and cream car Friday evening at 5 p.m. at Northwest hwy. and Vail ave. Arlington Heights, who:

Kept honking his horn continuously;

Expected me to make a left turn into Arlington Heights into a double lane of heavy racetrack traffic homeward bound;

Did not wait for me to turn when I had the opportunity but raced around me like mad cutting me off and barely missing both me and cars waiting to cross the highway;

Tore across the railroad tracks like crazy as the bell rang and the gates came down;

Just want to say that I will be here on earth enjoying the fresh air and sunshine and the sweet smell of flowers long after you are gone, because if you don't succumb from a heart attack with your impatience on the road you will crash into someone some day with your reckless driving.

Little League

I had the recent pleasure of visiting the little community of Rolling Meadows and while there I was invited to view a Little League Baseball game by my kind host.

It was amazing to me the calibre of baseball played by these little fellows and I experienced one of the nicest times of my life watching the White Sox play the Cubs.

The one little fellow, and I do mean little, was the outfielder for the White Sox. I learned his name was Tommy Considine; he certainly gave the fans a terrific thrill when, with the bases loaded, he laid down a perfect bunt on the old squeeze play and caught the opponents flatfooted while beating the bunt out for a hit and scoring the runner from third base.

I INQUIRED about this young fellow and learned that he and his brother, Mike, are two of the team's outstanding players and that Tommy is only eight years old, the smallest player in the league. In addition to this, he has made out only once in all the games played to date; his record shows two hits and the rest of the time he has been on base with walks.

If you haven't seen this little fellow in action, drop over to the Rolling Meadows field and watch him... it would be worth the price of admission if they were charging such, and rest assured I shall make it a point to get up there as much as possible to see him.

NATURALLY, I visited the race track. I was further impressed by the wonderful spirit shown by the Arlington Heights townfolks and I think you are to be complimented on the way your town operates.

I hope you won't mind my expressing my feelings for that little ball player but he is so darn good, I couldn't help sending this along to you for I think he deserves a word from the press and if you doubt this I suggest you contact the fans in Rolling Meadows.

Riverview Ramble

United Charities of Chicago wishes to thank you and the members of your staff for your help in publicizing our recent benefit, the "Riverview Ramble."

We who serve as directors of the agency, or as members of the women's auxiliary, which sponsored the event, realize that without your cooperation we could not have brought the story of United Charities and the "Riverview Ramble" to the public.

As a result of the splendid publicity given by the newspapers, and the fine support of the public, our attendance this year—12,000 persons—almost doubled the figure last year when our first benefit was held. We have realized a profit of over $25,000, which helps to finance the programs of the three divisions making up United Charities—the Family Service Bureau, the Legal Aid Bureau, and Camp Algonquin.

For those of us who worked on the benefit, and for the families throughout the Chicago area who are helped by United Charities, we should like to say once more—thank you for your help.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

from Patty McArdle

Dear Peg:

I have taken on a little job, for seven weeks, helping a friend of mine who runs a morning play class. My job is to pick up seven children every morning at 8:30, either take them to the beach or to Bonnie's house, depending on the day of the week, leave them and then return to take them home at 11:30. The deal she offered me was especially attractive, since she was allowing Megan to attend the class free, besides paying me a reasonable salary. However, I just didn't think it was a good plan to send Megan off every morning, now that she and Bridget have become so companionable. Bridget wants to do everything that Megan does and would be very put out if she couldn't go to the class too. Furthermore, Megan hasn't wanted to attend, ever since she heard that they go to the beach only twice a week, while we go every day and often, twice a day.

Besides going to the beach two days and having two days of supervised play in the recreation room of Bonnie's lovely home, one day is set aside for a field trip to some interesting place not far from town. Today we went to Hawthorn-Mellody Farm zoo. This was the farthest away that any of the field trips will be and because of the distance, it was impossible for me to merely deliver my passengers and then return later for them. So, Megan, Bridget, our little neighbor Cathy and I went along on the tour of the zoo.

AS I WROTE YOU not long ago, we love this zoo and think it quite complete and adequate for children. I must say, though, the conversation among my passengers today between the time I picked them up and the time we arrived at the farm was more entertaining than anything the animals did.

It ran something like this:

Judy (to Suzy who has just climbed into the car): "Say, I see you have your Davy Crockett lunch box."

Suzy: "Yes, let's see your lunch box. Yours doesn't have Davy Crockett on it."

Judy: "I know it, but it has a thermos that matches the box."

Suzy: "I know a new song about Davy Crockett:

Born in a gopher hole in Tennessee.
Littlest hole in the land of the free.
Lost his mother in the A and P.
And hung his father on the Christmas tree.
Davee—Davee Crockett, king of the two front ears."

(Gales of appreciative laughter from Judy, Megan, Bridget and Cathy).

JUDY: "THERE'S PEGGY. Hi Peggy!"

Peggy (getting into car): "Hi. You know what my mother did last night? She let me sleep without my nightgown on! Isn't she a silly woman?"

Judy: "I have a pink gown, a blue one and a yellow one."

Suzy: "So do I and I have one that's ripped."

Peggy: "What do you have for lunch in your pail?"

Suzy: "Peanut butter and jelly. Mother didn't get up in time to make it, so Sarah fixed it before I could tell her I wanted bologna. I always have peanut butter and jelly. What do you have?"

Peggy: "Peanut butter and jelly."

(And so the chatter goes—until four passengers later and we arrive at Bonnie's house).

Bonnie (seated on a chair with the children seated around her on the floor): "Now before we go to the zoo, I want you to tell me once more what the rules about the zoo are that we discussed yesterday. Peggy, I see you have your hand up. Can you tell us one?"

PEGGY: "DON'T PUT YOUR HANDS in the cages, because the Polar bear might pull you in!"

Bonnie: They probably wouldn't pull you in, but they might bite—isn't that right? Suzy."

Suzy: "Do not put your hand in the cages the animals might bite."

Bonnie: "Yes, Suzy, we just said that. Think of a new idea. Paul."

Paul: "Don't make loud noises or you'll scare the animals."

Bonnie: "Very good, Paul. Who else knows another rule? Johnny."

Johnny: "Don't go swimming in the Polar bear cage."

(Peals of laughter from the children).

Bonnie: "All right girls and boys—Johnny made a little joke, now let's think of some more good rules. Judy."

Judy: "Don't go away from the group."

Bonnie: "That's fine, Judy. We should all stay together. Danny."

Danny: "The whole group should stay together, so we don't get mixed up with the other animals." (This broke up the question and answer period because it nearly broke up Bonnie and me).

ON OUR WAY OUT to the cars, Bonnie made one more inquiry of a little girl who had been sitting all during our discussion holding her nose and not saying a word.

"Why are you holding your nose, Barbara?"

"Because we're going to the zoo!"

My love,
Patty.

House Hunting? Know U-Value For Summer Coolness, Winter Warmth

If your are shopping for a house, better get acquainted with its U-value — if you value summer coolness and winter warmth.

This tip is offered by the National Lumber Manufacturers association because U-value tells the story of how the walls (or roof or floors) of a house perform in keeping heat out in summer and inside in winter. It's a term used by engineers to measure how much heat is transmitted through the total combination of materials and air space that make up the shell of a house.

LOOK FOR a type of construction that has a low U-value, which means a low heat transmission rate, and you will be rewarded with greater comfort and economy, the lumber association advises. A low U-value provides savings on heating bills in winter, a cooler house in summer, and lower operating costs if you have air conditioning.

U-values for conventional types of walls are listed by the American Society of Heating and Ventilating engineers guide as follows:

Frame wall, wood siding, wood sheathing, lath, plaster, 3 5/8" insulation — .07.

Frame wall, wood siding, wood sheathing, lath, plaster — .26.

Frame wall, brick facing, wood sheathing, lath, plaster —.28.

8" brick, lath, plaster, furred — .32.

8" concrete, lath, plaster, furred — .39.

8" concrete block, 4" cut stone, plaster — .44.

8" brick, no interior finish —.50.

8" limestone or sandstone, plaster — .64.

COMPARING typical frame and typical masonry construction from this list, the NLMA points out that the solid brick wall, two courses wide, which has been furred, lathed and plastered, has a U-value of .32. This means that it transmits four and a half times as much heat as the insulated wood wall, which has a U-value of .07. And it transmits 23 per cent more heat than the uninsulated wood wall, which has a U-value of .26.

One reason for the better performance of the wood wall is that the wood itself is a good insulating material, the NLMA said. One inch of wood is equal to six inches of brick, or 15 inches of sandstone or concrete in insulating value, according to ASHVE figures. Another reason is that the 2-by-4 studding in a woodframe wall provides three and five-eights inches of dead air space which may be filled either partly or completely with bulk or blanket insulation.

Even without this special insulation, the dead air space is a valuable protection against summer heat transmission into the house or winter heat loss from the house. In contrast, thin furring strips normally provide the only space for insulation in solid masonry walls. This usually restricts the dead air space to less than one inch.

THE WOOD-FRAME brick-veneer construction given in the table, with a U-value of .28, performs far better than the solid brick, but it lets in four times as much heat as the insulated all-wood wall and eight per cent more than the uninsulated all-wood wall.

The wood-frame, wood-sided wall, insulated or uninsulated, also has a decided advantage over the other types of construction listed.

The lumbermen add that the extra thickness of masonry walls cuts down on usable floor space inside the house. For a 28 by 40 foot house, the excess space taken up by a masonry wall nine and one-half inches thick, compared with a wood-frame wall six inches thick, amounts to 40 square feet—enough space for a bathroom, powder room, or several large closets.

Play Platform A Child's Dream

Play sculpture is replacing slides, jungle gyms and the like in many parks and kid gathering places everywhere. Psychologists claim these structural abstractions stimulate young imaginations, and what yesterday was Ali Baba's cave might today be a 25th century rocket ship.

A play platform built of Douglas fir in your own back yard follows this same concept of transforming a simple object into a thing of rare delight through the magic of "let's pretend."

Children love to get off the ground, so the play platform should be elevated—not too high so that it is dangerous, but high enough to be the deck of a pirate ship or an opera stage for the dimpled diva.

You can build a big, sturdy stag for, by using inexpensive grades of Douglas fir, outlay for materials will be very nominal. For the floor, two-by-fours spaced a quarter-inch apart will allow water to run through, keeping it dry underfoot, and a fir frame underneath set on cememt piers will form a base for flooring.

Fences will serve as supports for 3 orf the corners, if the platform is built in a corner where they intersect. A post will support the fourth corner.

And such a platform will keep the kiddies out of the mud, to a certain extent.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

Carport with Woven Fence

A CARPORT with a woven wall makes a low-cost, interesting and mighty useful addition to any house. This is especially true if the carport has a storage area for garden tools.

Such a carport is shown in the illustration. A free plan for its construction is available.

The handsome woven wall is made by weaving strips of Masonite ¼" siding, one foot wide and eight feet long, between 4 by 4-inch posts set into the concrete driveway. Readily pliable for this weaving process, the Masonite siding is easy to work with, as it is splinter-free and free of defects. It takes a beautiful paint finish and will last for years.

An important feature of the garden tool storage room is the "Peg-Board" paneling on which may be suspended the various tools by means of interchangeable metal fixtures. These perforated panels, the lumber and other materials needed for this project may be obtained at lumber yards. For the free plan write to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting Plan No. AE-296.

Business Good, But Heads Are Still Shaking

Business is so good it is still causing a good deal of head-shaking by those who like to worry that good things can't last forever. This will probably be the broadest-based as well as the strongest year the construction industry has ever known. Schools, churches, stores, office buildings, etc. will set all-time peaks, and residential housing will top 1,300,000 — the seventh year in a row that housing starts have topped 1,000,000.

Machine tool orders in May climbed about 20 per cent over the similar period a year ago. Among consumer goods industries there are reports of gains in beverages, foods and detergents.

John Q. Public is spending freely, as evidenced by the fact that savings accounts have not been rising as rapidly as in the recent past. However, credit is still plentiful and there is no indication that the government wishes to risk the political consequences of tightening in credit availability. All in all, the business pulse is strong. If the Geneva meeting next month succeeds in producing an atmosphere of peace, there is little doubt that 1955 will hand up a record in productivity and employment. (BB Krieger became associated with Lyon-Healy in 1935, and has served as manager of the Michigan avenue and of the Evanston stores. Mr. Baron has been with Lyon-Healy 14 years. (BB

Good Tree Care And Poison Sprays Can Curb Dutch Elm

A tree can be sprayed for control of Dutch elm disease for 50 years or longer for less than it costs to remove a tree victim of this deadly killer.

That is why more and more communities in danger areas are recognizing the value of a regular spraying program, which is a form of preventive maintenance, according to F. R. Lancaster, plant pathologist of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

Dutch elm disease has spread rapidly in the last three years because of widespread drought conditions. Drought weakens trees, and weakened trees are preferred propagating places for elm bark beetles, carriers of the malady.

DDT dormant sprays are used to control the elm bark beetle. It is too late this year to start a dormant spraying program. But regular good tree practices are important to keep trees healthy enough for the beetles to shun. This care includes spraying for leaf-eating insects, pruning, feeding, and regular watering, if needed. Fallen elm wood and wood piles can be bettle breeding places and should be burned.

Before elms leaf out next spring, spraying with heavy DDT application over trunks and limbs followed by a light touch-up spray during the summer is recommended. DDT residue will build up faster than it will disappear on trees sprayed for several years so that lighter applications can then be made.

This residue build-up can reach a point where a single annual dormant spray will maintain a high level of bark beetle control.

Blind Vets Learn To Walk, Work, Play At Hines Hospital

Blinded veterans and servicemen are learning to walk, work and play again at Hines hospital under the guidance of a man who is himself a blind veteran.

Setting an example to the newly blinded men at the VA hospital is Russell C. Williams, chief of the blind rehabilitation section. Assisting Williams are specially trained sighted therapists.

In the American Medical Assn. Journal published July 9, Williams and rehabilitation service chief Dr. Maxwell D. Flank outline their program to help their patients make the physical and emotional changes needed for what they call "a fresh launching into society."

Handling 27 patients at a time, the rehabilitation section teaches them again to use simple tools and to walk with a cane — progressing finally to power tools and trips through Chicago's Loop.

All patients learn typing, along with braille and blind handwriting methods.

A clinical psychologist is on hand to help the patients adjust to the new dark world — but the emphasis of the program, according to the AMA Journal article, is on activity and not on talk.

As the only program of its kind in any of the country's VA hospitals, the blind rehabilitation section at Hines is admittedly an experiment. But it's a successful experiment, says its blind director. He and Dr. Flank say that of the 249 patients treated before December, 1954, 209 were significantly benefited. The other 40 remained only a short time.

At Colorado

Allan William Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Ross, 1535 S. State road, Arlington Heights, arrived June 25 at Fort Carson, Colo., where he is undergoing 6 weeks of field training at army ROTC summer camp.

Cadet Ross, a student at Westminster college at Fulton, Mo., is putting into practice at the camp the theoretical lessons learned in the ROTC classroom. Everything in the way of "soldiering" from physical training, close order drill and three day tactical bivouac to firing almost every weapon found in the infantry regiment is on the training schedule.

At Illinois

Composed of 75 top high school orchestra players from throughout the state, the 1955 Illinois summer youth senior orchestra will be in residence at the University of Illinois July 10 through 23. Prof. Bernard Goodman, violinist of the Walden quartet, will conduct the group in rehearsals and in a concert July 22 at 8 p.m., CDT on the campus.

In the group is Karen Baker, 19 N. Pine, Arlington Heights, playing the flute.

The senior orchestra brings the total of Illinois school musicians who have taken part in the 1955 summer youth music to 540 representing schools of all sizes from all parts of the state.

At Northwestern

Ray G. Mair, of 332 N. Benton st., Palatine, received his bachelor of science degree in industrial engineering from Northwestern university June 13.

At Northwestern

Robert Russell Bennett, noted contemporary composer and arranger, will conduct the Northwestern university summer high school orchestra in a concert Thursday, July 14, at 7 p.m., in the women's east quadrangle, University pl. and Sheridan rd., on the Evanston campus.

Change Dates Of Population Surveys

An important change in the timing of the current population survey, carried out locally and in 229 other areas of the country each month by the Bureau of the Census, was announced by supervisor John W. Camit of the bureau's district office at Chicago.

Up until this month the current population survey was taken each month during the week which included the 15th of the month with questions covering the week which included the 8th. Beginning in July, the current population survey will cover employment and unemployment during the week containing the 12th of each month.

Experts agree that statistics relating to the week of the 12th would be more typical for the month as a whole and would not be distorted by major holidays such as the Fourth of July and Labor Day. In addition, the change in timing is expected to minimize differences, insofar as these have been caused by different reference dates based on the Census enumeration of households in the Current Population Survey and those from other sources.

The current population survey will be conducted this month during the week beginning July 18.

In all ranks of life the human heart yearns for the beautiful; and the beautiful things that God makes are His gift to all alike.

Extend Deadline For Purchase Of Auto By Disabled

The deadline for eligible disabled veterans to apply for a government grant toward the purchase of an automobile or other conveyance has been extended for two years under a new law signed by the president, Robert D. Beer, VA's manager for Illinois, has announced.

Eligible veterans now have until October 20, 1956, or five years after discharge or separation from the armed forces, whichever is later, in which to apply. Previously, the application deadline was October 20, 1954, or three years after discharge or separation whichever was later.

VA IS AUTHORIZED by law to make a payment not to exceed $1,600 toward the price of an automobile or other conveyance, including special appliances, to World War II and Korean conflict veterans entitled to compensation for three years of disabilities. The three types of disabilities are:

1. Loss or permanent loss of use of one or both feet.
2. Loss or permanent loss of use of one or both hands.
3. Complete loss of sight in both eyes or permanent impairment of vision in both eyes to a degree constituting total blindness.

Price Support Program Teaches Lesson On Prices

We can learn many lessons from our experience with price support programs that may help us plan future programs.

The chief lesson, according to H. C. M. Case, farm economist at the University of Illinois, is that government can legislate prices and even acreage, but it cannot legislate consumption and yields.

Government supports the price of corn, but a hog feeder won't buy corn — or feed corn — if corn prices are too high in relation to hog prices. When hog feeders cut down on corn, a surplus piles up.

NINETY PERCENT price supports in a few years since 1948 simply priced corn a little too high for many feeders, and hog production was unduly restricted. It would have been easy to feed up more corn at that time, thus removing much of the surplus stocks on hand.

Wheat price supports make inadequate allowance for quality according to Case. Producers who use the loans, and most do in the Wheat belt, grow varieties that yield highest. As a result, the United States has actually had a shortage of certain types of durum hard wheat and has had to import it from Canada. At times prices were close to $4 a bushel.

GROWERS of most crops are using new and better farming methods, and these methods mean more production or production at less cost. If farm prices are held too high, farmers are led to overproduction. This is the most potent reason for flexible price supports, according to Case. With flexible supports, the level can be adjusted to meet supply situations that threaten to become a problem.

Case points out that we are beginning to learn that our large carry-over stocks actually set ceilings on prices until they can be removed as a potential supply. High price supports caused the surplus, and they are now acting as ceilings on prices as well as supports to prices.

DOWN ON THE FARM

with Your Farm Adviser
CARL F. MEES

In approximately one month all you people in the North Cook county area will have chance to go to the 9th annual 4-H fair at Arlington Park race track. The dates are August 12-14. Purpose of the fair is to afford members enrolled in 4-H clubs an opportunity to display project work. This is a part of their club program. In order for a club member to be an achievement member, he must display his work at the fair.

From the spectator's viewpoint it gives you a chance to see what these 4-H members are doing and your children or grandchildren a chance to get a close up view of some of our farm animals, poultry, rabbits, etc. You will find the time spent very worthwhile and entertaining.

OUR ATTENDANCE at the fair has grown each year. Last year there was an attendance of approximately 36,000. This year we expect an equal number or more.

What will you expect to see besides the 4-H displays? There will be displays from 40 or more local merchants. There will be the showing, judging of the 4-H exhibits on Friday all day and a program Friday evening featuring the crowning of the king and queen. There will be agricultural and home economics demonstrations Saturday afternoon. In the evening there will be square dancing exhibitions by the Rural Youth and 4-H federation together with our annual 4-H home talent show.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON will be the 4th annual horse show featuring the famous Northwest Mounted black horse troop under the direction of Major G. T. Sunde. In the evening the awards will be distributed and the program will be emceed by Jim Lounsbury. Ka-Hill recording company, Des Plaines, will cooperate in furnishing us with the recording artists or radio and TV.

How can you afford to miss this fine weekend of entertainment? The only cost is a 25 cent parking charge to help defray the expenses of the show. If you have never attended why don't you mark this as a must on your calendar.

WE ARE GRATEFUL to all the fine people who work to help make the show a success; to the merchants who exhibit and advertise in our Buyer's guide and to the Arlington Park Jockey club for the wonderful facilities.

We'll look for you August 12-14 at the 4-H Fair.

Choice Of Livestock Determines Profit Of More And More Farms

by JOHN H. BICKEL
Aassistant Farm Adviser

On most Illinois farms crops are the basis for production of income, but livestock is used to market a large part of the crops particularly forage and feed grains. Livestock enterprises are also important on many farms as a means of adding to volume of business and utilizing labor and fixed resources.

Since a large proportion of crops, labor and capital of Illinois farms is marketed through livestock, let us look at the possible returns from different livestock enterprises. The table below shows the returns per $100 feed fed to various livestock in 1954 and the 2-year (1953-1954) average retunrs obtained from farms in the Farm Bureau Farm Management service. The returns on these farms will be somewhat higher than on the average farm, because it is well known that possibly the above average farmers are more inclined to use the Farm Management service.

	Returns 1954	Average returns 1933-54
Livestock	$104	$163
Poultry	95	117
Beef cow herds	141	171
Dairy herds	93	135
Dual-purpose herds	126	124
Feeder cattle	154	148
Hogs	97	122
Native sheep	119	123
Feeder sheep

THE DIFFERENCE between the return figure and $100 feed cost represents the margin available to pay for equipment, buildings, veterinary items, labor and management. The margin needed to pay labor and other costs varies with kind of livestock and size of enterprise, but it is about equal to the long-time average returns minus $100 feed cost. For example, poultry flocks require a margin of around $63, whereas in 1954, the margin was only $4.

Like most averages, however, this table does not tell the whole story. We must add two more chapters, one on variation in returns and the other on alternative uses for certain feeds, labor and capital items.

Returns vary from year to year because of feed price relationship. An unfavorable feed-price ration in one year is no reason for a farmer to change his well balanced livestock system. Efficient use of land, labor, buildings, crops capital and managerial ability of the farmer will determine his success over a period of years.

RETURNS VARY from farm to farm each year. In 1954 about ¼ of the dairy and beef cow herds made enough to cover feed costs and pay market prices for labor and other items. These results indicate that productive and well-managed livestock can be profitable even though feed-price ratios are unfavorable.

These facts remain as convincing evidence that the margin and profits in the business of farming are becoming narrower and narrower. Operators and managers of businesses have indicated to me recently that they are beginning to feel some squeeze as the profits they once enjoyed are now decreasing. You people can feel assured that you are not the only ones in this situation as farmers have felt it for several years now.

Weeds Take More Water And Food Than Crops

Common Ragweed takes three times as much water as corn. Mustard takes twice as much nitrogen and phosphoric adid and four times as much potash and water as a well-developed oat plant.

Thus states a new bulletin put out by the University of Illinois college of agriculture. Called "Chemical Control of Weeds and Brush," the bulletin lists types of herbicides and means of using them. It carries specific instructions on control of Canada thistle, wild garlic, quack grass, Johnson grass, and woody plants.

According to farm adviser Carl F. Mees, copies of the bulletin are available in his office.

THE BULLETIN discusses sodium chlorate, borax, boron-chlorate, ammate, CMU and dinitro and TCA. These chemicals kill all plants in the treated area and are known as the nonselective herbicides. Known as the selective herbicides is a group that kills certain plants but does not injure others.

Corn Outlook Good In Most Areas Of State

July, the critical month for establishing corn yields, is at hand. In spite of hybrid seed, heavier fertilization and improved culture, the amount of rainfall just before and just after silking is the most important factor in high fields.

July rainfall in most of the chief corn growing areas averages 3 to 4 inches. More than this can mean a bumper crop; a sharp reduction may mean almost total failure. Last year's July 1 corn estimate was 3 1/3 billion bushels; July drouth cut the crop below 3 billion.

GENERAL CORN condition July 1 is very good. Scattered showers for the past 10 days have provided rain to most areas. The crop averages normal in development in most of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. In Iowa and Minnesota, corn is probably a week ahead of normal. At most of DeKalb's seed plants, detasseling will start around July 15th, with dates about a week earlier in northwestern Iowa and Minnesota.

The corn size lags only in southern Indiana, southern Illinois, southern Missouri, and part of western Kentucky, where wet weather was constant from May 15 to June 20. This year's July 1 official government corn estimate will probably come quite close to that of last year—3 1/3 billion bushels.

FARMERS IN THE chief corn borer areas in northern Illinois, most of Iowa, and parts of Minnesota, South Dakota and Nebraska have been well alerted and much spraying has been and is being done. Entomologists stress the point that each farmer needs to determine by examining his corn whether spraying will pay. If leaf feeding in the upper leaves is present in 75% of the plants, spraying is indicated, says entomologist Harold Gunderson of Iowa.

(FM

Black And White Show

Mooseheart will be the scene of the 15th annual northern Illinois black and white show, sponsored by the Illinois state holstein association. Judging will take place on the banks of beautiful Moose Lake Saturday, July 16.

Approximately 200 Blue Ribbon winners from local black and white shows held throughout Illinois during the past month will be paraded before Judge T. A. Burgeson of Grandview, Mo.

Events will start at 9 a.m.

In the selective group are 2, 4-D, MCP and 2,4, 5-T.

Although these are reasonably safe, authors F. W. Slife and W. O. Scott of the department of agronomy list four precautions in their use: Use them in growing crops only when weeds are serious and no other reasonable way for killing weeds is available; don't spray near susceptible crops on a windy day; calibrate your sprayer often and under conditions similar to those where spraying is done; and follow recommendations on rates, and methods of using.

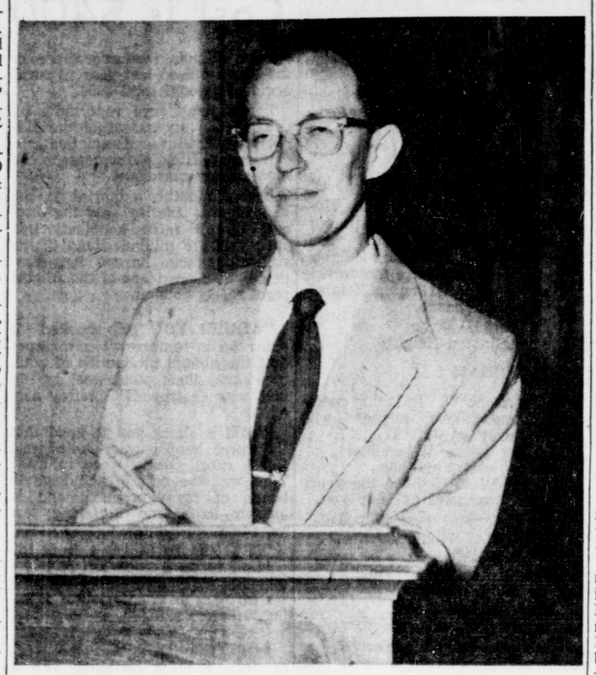
Columnist Of The Week



"There is value in having a column that reminds us the church is at work in the world. This is what I try to say. Not too much space is spent on personal problems, but my readers are reminded that the church can help them solve those problems."

So speaks the Rev. William O. McGill, minister of Community Presbyterian church in Wheeling and writer of "In the Shadow of the Steeple" which appears each week in nearly 20,000 copies of Paddock Publications.

Rev. McGill is graduate of Maryville college and McCormick Theological seminary and has done graduate study at University of Chicago and Northwestern university.

For 6 years he has been minister of Wheeling's only church and for 5 years a columnist for the Paddock papers. He is married and has 3 children, Pat, 14; Alan, 10, and Janet, 4.

Record Cow

Farm Accidents Average Cost Is $400 Per Farm

Each Illinois farmer's share of the loss suffered last year in rural accidents would total $400.

That's the figure reported by Otto Steffey, president of the Illinois agricultural association, in cautioning Illinois farmers to be more safety-conscious.

In his monthly editorial in the IAA record, Steffey said the total cost of all farm accidents last year was $75 million. Head of the statewide farm bureau organization is also president of the Illinois rural safety council.

"WOULD YOU BE shocked if you read in tomorrow's newspaper that the annual production of poultry, eggs, sheep, and wool in Illinois was destroyed?" Steffey asked.

Would it shock you to read that 433 rural people were killed and 15,534 rural people were injured? That was the cost of accidents in terms of farm products and in human lives and suffering last year in rural Illinois.

"It seems to me that it is important to do a good job of farming. But it is also important that we farmers do a safe job of farming," Steffey said.

POINTING OUT that the week of July 24-30 is National Farm Safety week, the IAA leader said, "If we are to reduce the appalling toll from accidents in Illinois, it will only be the result of what you and I do about it.

"Isn't it worth a little extra effort in being a bit more careful, thoughtful and more courteous each day? I believe we'll be surprised by the dividends this extra effort will pay," Steffey continued.

The IAA leader urged all persons interested in promoting farm safety to attend the safety field day to be held July 26 at the state fairgrounds, Springfield.

"Demonstrations of what to do and what not to do will show how we can all help prevent accidents on the farm," Steffey said.

Omits Dome Light To Snare Speeders

A new patrol car has been ordered for the Barrington police department and the present patrol car will be retained for auxiliary use.

It will not be equipped with a red dome light since that advertises police observance and increases the difficulty in apprehending speeders. One trustee made a 2-hour check on Northwest highway in her personal car and chalked up 36 violations. Over a similar period under comparable traffic conditions, riding with a police officer in the squad car, only seven violations were noted.

Speeches were presented by Joan Klamer and Dierdre Fischer on pictures on the wall, Mary McClane on how to choose a material, and Nancy Heimsoth on safety on the street.

FULLY AUTOMATIC

$295

Plug this unit in the wall and your hard water problems are completely eliminated. Not even a switch or valve to touch. COMPLETELY automatic. Also semi-automatic units available.

In the Rainbow Automatic, the nuisance of regenerating has been entirely eliminated. A simple, dependable electric timer does this for you — while you are sleeping.

Needs salt only 2 to 3 times yearly. Softens—Filters — Removes Iron and Corrosive elements. This new type of regeneration is the greatest advancement in water softening since its discovery. Our jet action backwash method keeps tanks and zeolite clean and fresh for years.

A softener that requires attention is as old fashioned as a water heater that needs to be lit.

No other automatic softener approaches the Rainbow Automatic in simplicity and dependability. Old methods of regenerating have been discarded and our new and improved method takes over.
